REPLY STIRS OFFICIALDOM

Diaz's Reply to Taft's Note Is Unsatisfactory.

HOLDS AMERICANS FOR THE BORDER TROUBLES

Says American Soldiers Aid the Revolutionists.

The Whole Tenor of Diaz's Reply Is Said To Be That, While Government Deplores Occurrences on the Border, It Does Not Hold Itself Responsible and Blames United States for Present Conditions.

Washington, April 20.—Callers at the White House, today, with whom President Taft discussed the Mexican situation, united in declaring that Taft was not disposed to regard the unexpected tenor of the Diaz note, unofficially reported, as interposing any obstacle to a speedy settlement of borderland conditions.

"A sparring for position," was the way the president summed up the Diaz reply, according to Representative Slayden, Democrat, of Texas, with whom he had a long talk. He was convinced from what the president said to him that the incident was to be expected in diplomatic interchanges.

"The president knows the game," said Slayden, "and in his talk with me, I was convinced that he regards the Diaz note rather in the light of a trivial incident. He thinks it is a part of the jockeying for position, that is an important part of diplomacy under such conditions."

Slayden said the president had evidently received confirmatory messages from Mexico, presumably through Ambassador Wilson, as to the text of Diaz's reply, although as yet it has not been formally transmitted.

Meeting Called.

In accordance with an agreement reached yesterday, a conference was arranged for 1 o'clock, today, at the White House between the president, the secretary of state, Chairman Sulzer, of the house committee on foreign affairs, and a sub-committee of that committee, composed of Representatives Gardner, Democrat, of Texas; Sharp, Democrat, of Ohio, and Foster, Republican, of Vermont.

Representative Sulzer said before the meeting that his committee was practically unanimous against intervention and strictly in favor of a "hands off" policy on the part of the United States.

Sulzer said it was certain that before any offensive move is taken there will be deep deliberation. He declared that an effort to invade Mexico would mean the immediate organization of an army at least double and probably triple our present strength.

Many military experts, he said, believe that a force of 250,000 would be necessary for a successful campaign and that it would take years to bring the campaign to a successful conclusion.

Statement Made.

After a consultation between Secretary of State Knox and Assistant Secretary Wilson, the following statement was given out at the department today:

"The department of state declines to comment upon press telegrams from Mexico on the subject of a reply to the representations made by the American embassy under its instructions of April 14 to call attention to the need of instruction to prevent further danger to American life and property, as in the Douglas incident. Neither the text of the embassy's note nor of the Mexican reply is before the department. From a brief telegram received from the embassy on the subject it appears that orders have been given through the Mexican war department to prevent firing that might endanger American life and property in Douglas and that the Mexican government has expressed itself as deploring the incident in question. It is inferred from the embassy's telegram that there is some discrepancy between the news which has reached the two capitals as to various particulars connected with the Douglas incident."

Zamacona's Views.

Mexican Ambassador Zamacona, today, issued the following statement:

"The note addressed by the department of foreign affairs to Ambassador Wilson refers to the lamentable events on the border and certainly must be friendly in form and essence for it is impossible to suppose for a moment that it might be in the least unfriendly or discourteous. The relations between the two governments have been most cordial. It would be very convenient to wait until the note is made known in full before venturing any comment on fragmentary or unauthenticated quotations. The press at present more than ever may do great good if it directs its efforts to prevent public opinion from being unduly excited and misled. This would be a great help toward accomplishing the earnest wishes of the Mexican people and their government in order to preserve the friendly relations existing between both countries."

Zamacona said complaints had been made regarding participation by Americans in the fight at Agua Prieta in behalf of the revolutionists and that although he had not received a copy of the Diaz reply, he would not be surprised if it contained such statements.

Complaints Made.

Washington, April 20.—Unofficial advices that the delayed reply of President Diaz to President Taft's note of last Saturday is a sharp retort instead of a pacific promise, created a great stir in official circles here today.

All officialdom, however, was determined to wait for official information as to the character of the note, and would not accept as final the reports which indicated it to be exactly opposite to what was expected.

According to the unofficial report, the Diaz administration has created the impression among the Mexicans about Mexico City and elsewhere that the revolutionary army is largely made up of Americans and that the revolution is practically an invasion by "gringoes." It is said that the Diaz note, instead of promising to take measures to protect American lives and property on the border, announced a mere repetition of previous routine orders to the army, and on the other hand, blamed the Americans for the border trouble.

The Diaz note is said to contain

WANTS TROOPS TO INTERFERE

Senator Stone Discusses the Border Situation.

TAFT SHOULD HAVE THE POWER TO ACT

And Authorized To Wage War Against Mexico.

Stone Declares Taft's Authority Should Be Great Enough To Warrant Him in Using Military Forces in Whatever Way He May Deem Expedient and Necessary—Stone's Speech in Detail.

Washington, April 20.—Asserting that President Taft should be authorized immediately to wage war against Mexico, if American rights should be again violated, Senator Stone, Democrat, of Missouri, discussed the southern border situation in the senate today.

"I am going to say," Stone declared, "whether I do right or wrong in saying it, that the congress should at once authorize the president to employ whatever forces may be necessary to prevent a repetition of the bloody outrage committed at Douglas, Arizona, and a repetition of which is threatened at El Paso, Texas.

"The president should be authorized by formal action, and the congress should express its opinion in positive terms that it is his duty to use whatever force the circumstances may require to protect our people in their own territory and in their own homes from danger. His authority should be great enough to fully warrant him in using our military forces in whatever way he may deem expedient and necessary, even though it should lead to an intrusion upon Mexican territory.

To Use Military Forces.

"If any acts done under this authority by the president should lead to hostile demonstrations against American citizens resident in the interior of Mexico, the president should be authorized to use the military forces of the United States if that be found necessary, to protect the lives and liberty of peaceable American citizens in any quarter of Mexico.

"No man could more deeply than I regret any breach of the peace between the United States and Mexico, but intelligent Mexicans must realize that no government can owe a more imperative duty than that of protecting its people against wrongs from any source or however committed."

American citizens estimated at more than 60,000 reside in Mexico, Stone said, and he asserted that reliable authority placed the value of their property interests of $1,000,000,000 or double those of all other foreign people combined.

Foreign interference on an extensive scale by any foreign power, he said, would be regarded as an act of unfriendliness to the United States. But he said that he believed reports to that effect unfounded.

Stone declared he did not believe that Japan figured in the sending of troops to the border. That action was justified, in his opinion, by the unsettled conditions in Mexico.

SAYS PEOPLE ARE AROUSED

Senator Works Makes First Speech in Congress.

HE WANTS ARIZONA ADMITTED AS STATE

And Takes Hard Rap at the Opposition.

Works Denounces Opposition to Arizona Constitution Based on the Recall Feature and Declares Controversy Presents an Issue of Transcendent Importance to People of This Country.

Washington, April 20.—Declaring that Arizona was entitled to statehood and that the preservation of the government depended upon the general adoption of the initiative, referendum and recall, Senator Works, Republican of California, first of the new senators to make a speech, held the attention of the senate today.

Works gave no excuse for his early appearance, saying that his understanding was that his responsibilities as a senator commenced when he assumed the duties of office.

Senator Works denounced the opposition to the Arizona constitution based on the recall feature and added:

"This controversy presents an issue of transcendent importance to the people of this country. If the congress shall refuse to approve the proposed constitution of Arizona it is assuming a grave responsibility. The consequences may be far-reaching and disastrous. The people are aroused and most earnest in their demand for just such legislation as is contained in this proposed constitution.

The Real Objection.

"What is the real objection to the constitution? No one need be in doubt on that subject. It is one phase of the struggle that has been going on in this country between the common people and the privileged self-seeking interests, affecting the right to govern the nation, the states and municipalities. The people are insisting that they shall be permitted to govern their own country and that it shall not be corrupted and governed by the power of money in the hands of men who care nothing for the government except as a means of increasing their vast wealth. They insist that this country shall be a government of the people and not a plutocracy of wealth."

Works said the record of the Lorimer case disclosed a condition that brought the whole nation to shame.

"It is one out of hundreds of cases," he declared, "where corrupt and illegal influences have been brought to bear to control elections and the enactment of legislation detrimental to the public at large.

Menace to Nation.

"Objection to the admission of Arizona is made on the ground that its constitution provides for the initiative, referendum and recall. I assume that no senator on this floor will maintain that the ultimate power, the sovereignty of this nation, does not rest in the people. We have a written constitution. It came from the people. The simple questions is: Have they by their own act in forming the constitution deprived themselves of the right of self-government through direct legislation? Are they compelled to submit wholly to the acts of representatives selected, not by them but by the powerful interests that are menacing the life of the nation and forced upon them in many instances by fraud, corruption and bribery?

A Grave Situation.

"This is a grave question that reaches the foundation of the government and threatens the integrity of our free institutions.

"Congress need not delude itself with the belief that this demand for direct legislation comes from fanatics and radical reformers only. The demand is universal and is supported by the best citizens in the country without regard to party. The absolute necessity for some legislation that will put the people in possession and control of their government and drive the interests and political bosses out of politics and the official life of the nation is too evident to admit of question.

"What has the question whether I or any other senator does or does not believe in the recall of judges to do with the right of Arizona to be admitted as a state. The provision is not in violation of the constitution or any law of the United States. It is a question that affects Arizona alone and one that her people have a right to settle for themselves."

MARYLAND MASON SHOOTS HIMSELF

Attempts To End Life on a Train at Lodi.

Akron, O., April 20.—Charles Smeltz, forty-eight, a Cumberland, Maryland, merchant, is in the City hospital here suffering from a self-inflicted bullet wound. Smeltz, the Akron police say, shot himself on Baltimore & Ohio train, No. 14, on which he was a passenger, at Lodi. A thirty-eight caliber revolver bullet tore through his face, but did not enter the brain. He was attended by railroad physicians and brought to Akron. Smeltz is said to be a prominent Mason. He refuses to tell why he shot himself. His condition is not serious.

NEW YORK LAWYERS HAVE HARD STRUGGLE

Conclusions Reached by the Lawyers' Association.

New York, April 20.—Forty per cent. of New York's 16,000 lawyers have a hard struggle for existence, thirty per cent. are making a fair living, twenty per cent. earn a good income, and ten per cent. are making "large profits." This is the conclusion of the membership committee of the New York County Lawyers' association, announced today. The income of the average New York lawyer is no greater than that of a patrolman or a tradesman's clerk.

Signs Bruce Bill.

Columbus, April 20.—Governor Harmon today signed the Bruce bill giving county prosecutors the right to appoint their own detectives.

POLICE FORCE IS TO BE FIRED

Granite City's Mayor-Elect Is for Reforms.

PLANS TWO YEARS ON WATER WAGON

Will Also Advocate Municipal Coal Yard.

Socialist Mayor-Elect Resigns Four-Dollar-a-Day Job To Accept Municipal Toga at $75 a Month—He Will Cling to Public Dances and Baseball—Too Busy To Court a Girl.

St. Louis, April 20.—Marshall Edward Kirkpatrick, Socialist, Tuesday, elected mayor of Granite City, Illinois, a city of 15,000 population and the next largest town to Milwaukee to put a Socialist into the chief executive's chair, has publicly announced the following as his first official act when he assumes office, May 1.

"Go on the water wagon for two years and fire the entire police force."

Of course, there are other things the mayor-elect hopes to accomplish. He is advocating a municipal coal yard, where fuel shall be retailed at cost; ice plant run without profit; public ownership of gas and electric lighting system, and reduce the city's running expenses.

Kirkpatrick has resigned his job as "shearer" in the Granite City steel works, a position that paid him four dollars a day, to accept the municipal toga at $75 a month. He proposes to devote his time to editing a Socialist paper.

While Kirkpatrick foreswears intoxicants, there are two pastimes he will cling to. He expects to continue attending public dances, and will play baseball. When the Granite City team clashes with an adversary each Sunday the mayor will be found in uniform in right field for the town club.

The newly-elected mayor is a bachelor twenty-eight years old, and declares he has been too busy to court a girl. He was born in New Okland City, Indiana.

WOMAN FASTS FOR SIXTY-FIVE DAYS

Miss Geshella Is Today Partaking of Food Again.

Morris Plains, N. J., April 20.—After a fast of sixty-five days, Annie Geshella, thirty years old, slight of build, is today partaking of food again. A half-dozen glasses of milk and half an orange were all the food she had during her fast.

Miss Geshella went to the Passaic General hospital early in February for a "pain in her side." On her first day in the hospital, she drank a glass of milk and ate half an orange. She maintained that an "angel visitor" fed her. She was at first suspected of fraud, but a close watch showed that she was actually going without food.

Early in March, Miss Geshella was transferred to the New Jersey State hospital here. She suffered no ill effects from her fast and even now says she has no relish for her food, which consists of bread crumbs and milk.

FROM BARONET TO A JANITOR

The Experience of Sir Genille Cave-Browne-Cave.

IS CONVERTED BY SALVATION ARMY

Has Been a Rough Rider and Moving Picture Actor.

Sir Genille Declares He Is No Longer the Heavy-Drinking, Roystering Fellow, but a Christian and Wants To Be Salvation Army Officer and Go to India, Where He Saw Service with the Colors.

New York, April 20.—From British baronet to expert Rough Rider with a Wild West show and then to janitor of a Salvation army hall in Brooklyn, has been the remarkable experience of Sir Genille-Cave-Browne-Cave, who, today, announced his resignation as vice president of the British boy scouts' organization in order to apply for admission to the Salvation army training college. The baronet wants to become an officer in the Salvation army and expects, although he is well over the age limit, to be accpete for that work.

At the Salvation army hall, Genille said, today, that he hoped when he was accepted for Salvation army work, that he would be sent either back to his old home in England or to India where he saw service with the colors.

As evidence of his right to his title, Sir Genille today exhibited his birth certificate, photographs and other documents all of which indicated that he was what he represented himself to be. He also referred to Colonel William H. Cox, editor-in-chief of the War Cry, who has investigated his case and says that their new recruit is actually the twelfth baronet Cave-Browne-Cave.

The baronet was born September 3, 1869, educated at St. Helen's college, Southsea, and served in India, Burmah, and in the Boxer uprising as an officer in the British army. He resigned his commission some ten years ago and since then attained fame as a big game hunter and Rough Rider. For three years, prior to last summer, he traveled with a Wild West show and was one of its most active riders. Last summ he was in England and decided to come to this country to get a show of his own to take to England, but the death of King Edward caused a change in his plans.

Moving Picture Actor.

Genille then secured a position as a moving picture actor at ten dollars a day. Meanwhile, he was negotiating with a marriage broker, who planned to marry his title to a wealthy Washington heiress whose identity he does not disclose. To bring about the wedding it had been agreed that the parents of the girl would settle $500,000 on the baronet. Negotiations, however, were quickly broken off when Cave-Browne-Cave joined the Salvation army September 27 last.

At the Salvation army hall in Brooklyn, today, the baronet talked at length about himself and his plans. He asserted that he had not joined the Salvation army because he was destitute or in need of assistance, but simply because he had become converted at one of its meetings.

"It is quite a contrast to the ten dollars a day I was earning when I joined the army to the $3.50 a week which I now get for taking care of this hall," he said with a smile, "but I am perfectly content. As I have to buy my meals and clothes out of my wages, being supplied with only a place to sleep here, I am not able to save very much. I have applied for an officer's commission in the Salvation army and, as I am forty-two years old, six years beyond the age limit, I have had to wait until my application is approved by the high officials of the organization.

Proof of Title.

"I am Sir Genille Cave-Browne-Cave, twelfth baronet of that name, and I have plenty of proof of the legitimacy of my title, but I am no longer the heavy-drinking roystering fellow I once was. I became converted through the instrumentality of the army and am now perfectly happy and content. My conversion was sudden. One night last September I was rinking in a saloon when a Salvation army lassie touched me on the shoulder and asked me if I was a Christian. When I told her no, she handed me a card and invited me to attend her meetings.

"I had always refused to go to church as I had no desire to listen to some one who I believed was a bigger hypocrite than I was myself, but for some reason I went to the meeting. I went every night after that and on the sixth night, while sitting in my own room, I was converted.

"I then publicly declared my belief in religion and offered myself for the army work. I abandoned all of my old companions and took this job as janitor at one-third a week what I used to earn in a day. The marvelous thing is that I immediately lost my taste for both alcohol and tobacco. While I drank and smoked heavily, today the very smell of either drink or tobacco makes me ill. I have never been as happy as I am now, although I have been a soldier in India and China, a cowboy in America and have had as varied an experience as usually given to most men.

"It will cost me about $100 to go through the training college, but I expect to be able to borrow that from my brother-in-law for I can not save very much out of my present salary. But I earnestly intend to devote the remainder of my life to working for the aid of my fellow men."

He Works Earnestly.

That Sir Genille is in earnest in his work was shown when he was found scrubbing the floor of Salvation army hall in Brooklyn. In boots, trousers and undershirt, armed with a broom, he was sloshing around in the water and showing himself an adept at manual labor. He paused in his work long enough to tell his story and to add that he had worked in Dodge City, Kansas; Cheyenne, Wyoming, and had "rustled" all through Colorado, Montana and Wyoming.

Colonel Cox looks upon Sir Genille as one of the most valuable accessions ever made to the Salvation army's ranks.

"We know nothing about his antecedents," the colonel said, "except that his claim to nobility is genuine. He has entered into the work with enthusiasm and I am sure that he will be a tremendous force for good, wherever he is stationed."

TAX BILL HAS DIFFICULTIES

The Measure Will Have To Be Amended.

OPPOSITION OF CLEVELANDER

Stockwell and Cetone Line Up Together.

Three Points Upon Which Senate Committee on Taxation Is Unable To Agree Are Rather Vital to the Operation of Law—Cetone Demands Exemption of State Levy Other Points.

Columbus, O., April 20.—The one-per-cent maximum tax bill is meeting with a great deal of difficulty in the deliberations of the senate committee on taxation, which has it under consideration. At a meeting, yesterday, it became evident that the bill will have to be amended or bear the brunt of opposition of the Cleveland Democrats, as well as that of Senator Cetone and his followers.

It is said that the developments in the committee have resulted in the pairing off of some strange bedfellows, two of these being Senator John Stockwell, of Cleveland, and Senator George Cetone, of Montgomery county, who have been opposed to one another on nearly every measure before the senate this session.

The three points upon which the committee has been unable to agree are rather vital to the operation of the law. Senators Stockwell and Cetone want the state levy, now 1.32 mills, exempted from the bill because under the one-per-cent plan, the state gets only three-fourths mill, or about one-fourth as much as at present.

Cetone Decides.

Senator Stockwell has a plan for a different sort of referendum from that set forth in the bill and also opposes the budget commission, which is to consist of the county treasurer, auditor and prosecuting attorney, with no city officials on it at all. He contends that the city will only get what is left after the county has taken all it wants.

Senator Stockwell's substitute for the referendum feature of the bill provides that the council may vote additional levies if it is found that the one per cent. is not enough to cover expenses, and that this increase may be voted upon by the people after the petition containing fifteen per cent of the qualified electors has been presented.

Senator Cetone is very decided in his demand for the exemption of the state levy, and is said to have declared openly that he will fight the bill on the floor if he does not get the amendments he is asking for. He loses some of the strength of his opposition, however, because Senator Isaac Huffman, who is usually with him in his opposition to administration measures, is lined up this time for the bill.

Captain Hurralle Dead.

Rehoboth, Del., April 20.—Captain George Hurralle, of New York City, who was first mate on Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock I and III, died of heart disease while off the breakwater in his motorboat Express, today.

New Compensation Bill.

Columbus, O., April 20.—Persons employed in Ohio industries who are permanently disabled while at work will receive two-thirds of their wages for life if the general assembly accepts the recommendation of the special house committee of ten, appointed to adjust differing opinions and bring about a compromise on the proposed workmen's compensation act. The report is a victory for labor.

The committee reported back to the house with amendments the bill which embodies the ideas of the minority report of the state employers' liability commission. The main report of the committee, however, will be in the form of amendments. The recommendation to pay permanently disabled workmen for life is to replace the provision of the bill paying such persons for only six years and not to exceed the sum of $3,400. The payment for life provision was mainly the result of the work of Representative Evans of Cuyahoga county.

The other amendments also are important. They provide that employes shall contribute 10 per cent to the proposed compensation fund, and employers 90 per cent. In the original minority report the employers were to pay all of the fund.

An important victory for labor is the amendment to the effect that whenever an employer fails to obey any law or order for the safety of his employes and an accident results, he shall have no defense against liability for the accident.

Still another amendment provides that in case the employer has violated such laws or orders the employe can bring suit in the court if he so desires.

Canal Sale Approved.

Columbus, O., April 20.—First steps in what may be the inaugural of a policy to do away with canals in Ohio were taken in the state when a series of bills introduced by Senator Yount was passed. They provide for the sale or lease of all

THE EFFORTS AGAINST JUDGE M. DONNELLY

Proceedings Are Blocked on a Technicality

ATTEMPT TO APPOINT COMMITTEE FAILURE

Senator Dean Makes an Unusual Offer—Says If Judge Donnelly Is Convicted He Will Be Willing To Serve First Two Years of Sentence for Him—His Reason

In regard to the proceedings against Judge Michael M Donnelly the Ohio State Journal of Tuesday says

First steps in the consideration of the question of summary removal of Circuit Judge Michael Donnelly of Napoleon were blocked in the house yesterday by a show of opposition So few members were present that business could be done only by unanimous consent

Speaker Vining presented to the house the communication from Attorney General Hogan and Prosecutor Mulcahy of Henry county transmitting the testimony adduced at the Donnelly trial on the charge of embezzlement

Representative Day of Coshocton offered a joint resolution for appointment of a committee of five senators and five representatives to report articles of impeachment or otherwise deal with the charges

Langdon's Point Won

Representative Irvin of Preble interjected a point of order that there was no formal complaint before the house Hogan not having made charges and that under the removal section of the constitution there must be complaint

Representative Langdon was sustained by Speaker Vining in contending that under the resolution the committee could advise impeachment and that no formal complaint was necessary in such case

Fearing there were not sufficient votes to adopt the resolution Day withdrew a motion to consider it at once

Cowan of Putnam said the house was going rather fast as a change of venue had been granted and a new trial set for April 24 so that the legislature might be placed in a ridiculous position by preferring charges of impeachment about the time a jury might acquit the judge

The Offer of Dean

If Judge Donnelly is sentenced to four years in the penitentiary said Senator Thomas A Dean of Sandusky county yesterday I'll serve the first two years of his term and give him the benefit of my good time

Judge Michael Donnelly of Napoleon judge of the circuit court of the Sixth district charged with having embezzled many thousand dollars from the Ohio German Fire Insurance company of which he was president and Senator Dean have been warm political and personal friends for many years

Dean does not think well of the proceedings that have been instituted by Attorney General Hogan to have Judge Donnell ousted from the judgeship by concurrent resolution of both houses of the assembly Indeed from expressions of senators in conversation since the proceedings were instituted it does not seem that there is much chance that the judge will lose his place by reason of any action of the senate

I don't see why said Dean we should help the attorney general's department win its case Judge Donnells has never been convicted of crime and never a thing has been produced to reflect on his judicial conduct Everybody in my county is for Judge Donnell It's inevitable that a man who has been in politics like he has should have enemies

Dean declared his belief that the big insurance companies were behind the prosecution A little company had failed he said and the big fellows wanted to make that failure as impressive as possible so that it would discourage anyone else from trying to start a company To aid that plan he said it would be well to send a man to the penitentiary

FARMERS DO NOT LIKE BRIDGE SITUATION

Apparent Lack of Foresight in Tearing Bridges Down

The bridge across the Little Scioto on the Big Island pike which was recently torn down on account of the dredging of the river and which has not been rebuilt is causing indignation among the farmers of that vicinity The farmers are in a quandary as to how they will get the materials for constructing the wing abutments of the bridge from the city to the other side without going several miles out of their way

At the rate the dredge is going the bridge on the waterworks road will be taken down before the new bridge is put up This will necessitate the farmers west of the river going either to the Kilbourn road or the Longville pike about three miles distant

As the contract for the construction of the abutments has not yet been let it will be some time before the bridge can be built

If shoes have become mildewed rub them well with vaseline This will usually remove all traces of the green

THE CORRECTION OF ERRONEOUS REPORTS

Health Conditions in the City Greatly Improved.

DANGER OF SPREAD OF DISEASE IS SMALL

Board of Health Orders the Children in the Public Schools Vaccinated. The Board is Well Pleased with Manner in Which Smallpox Is Being Handled.

To correct some of the erroneous reports that have been circulated in the past few days relative to the smallpox condition in the city, the board of health held a meeting, Monday, and asked that the true conditions be given the public through the newspapers. The members of the board of health are well pleased with the way the disease is being handled and the rapidity of its eradication.

The official report, Monday morning, was that there were thirty-three cases of the disease in the city, eleven having been released. Health Officer Bain stated, Monday, that all of the places were under quarantine and that he believed all danger of the disease spreading is past. Of the thirty-three cases remaining, nearly all are in one section of the city and much precaution is being taken by the people living in the vicinity. All of the cases are of the mild form and more than half of those now confined with the disease will be released before the end of this week.

several of the surrounding cities and villages it is reported that the town has been placed under quarantine and that people are dying daily of the disease. This report is unfounded as there has not been a case where the patient has been confined to his bed. Monday, Mayor Seiter received a telephone call from a resident of Prospect asking if the city had been placed under quarantine. The mayor at first laughed, being under the impression that the man was joking. On learning that he was in earnest and of some of the reports going the rounds at Prospect, the mayor stated the true conditions.

The quarantine on the places of entertainment, a few of the schools and churches will not be raised for a few days at least, to better guard against any further spread of the disease. The board will also request the postponement of several proposed concerts and entertainments. To guard against the spreading of the disease in any of the schools, the board issued an order, Monday morning, to compel every school child to be vaccinated. It is the opinion of the members of the health board that with the precautions being taken, the disease will be eradicated wholly within a few weeks.

CHARLES STOUT FOUND DEAD SUNDAY MORNING

His Death Is the Result of Stroke of Apoplexy.

UNEXPECTED DEATH OF A LUMBER BUYER

Stout Comes to Marion in Search of Employment—Is Discouraged and Suicide Is Suspected—Coroner Is Called and Finds the Man's Death Is Due to Natural Causes.

Charles Stout, of Mansfield, fifty-two years old, was found dead in his room at the home of Fred A. Sparks, No. 237 north Main street, Sunday morning. Coroner W. H. Hinklin, who was called at 11 a. m., pronounced death due to apoplexy superinduced by an enlarged heart.

Mr. Stout, a lumber buyer, came here about three weeks ago to obtain a position. Failing to secure a job right away, as he thought he could do, he became greatly discouraged. Mr. Sparks, who conducts a produce exchange and grocery, took him into his home and cared for him.

Saturday noon the man was seen for the last time by Mr. and Mrs. Sparks, both of whom were busy about their store. It is believed that he went to his room about that time. Sunday morning, when he did not put in an appearance for breakfast, Mrs. Sparks went to his room and found him dead. It was then about 9 o'clock. His face and body had turned black and the general belief was that he committed suicide. No evidence tending to show that he took his own life was found, however, and when the coroner was called he declared that death must have been due to apoplexy. His heart was considerably enlarged the coroner said.

The deceased is survived by a daughter, who lives in Indiana, and a brother and sister at Mansfield. The relatives were notified.

THE BOWLING CONTEST BROUGHT TO A CLOSE

Columbus Wins in the Second Game of Series.

MARION WINS THE TOURNEY BY 157 PINS

South Does the Best Bowling for Marion in the Game in the Capital City—McRill Gets a Poor Start, but Recovers—Mason Fails To Show His Usual Form.

The bowling contest between the Evening Stars, of this city, and the Old Landmarks, of Columbus, for a purse and a side bet, came to a close on the Old Landmark alleys, Saturday afternoon. The final series ended in a victory for the Columbus team by 157 pins, but the lead of 285 pins secured by the local team in the first series, was too much for the Landmarks to overcome and Marion came out victorious by 157 pins on the total of six games.

In the final series the locals aimed to reach the 800 mark in each contest to take safe and this they accomplished. They kept close to the Landmarks in the first game, but after losing the second game by 101 pins, the locals took a brace and almost won, but failed to win the last game by one pin. Not one of the men broke into the double-century row in any of the three games, while four scores of the Columbus bowlers went over 200. Smith did the best bowling for Marion, his average for the three games being eighty pins one-third. McRill started poor, but brought his average up with 195 in the second game and 184 in the last. Zeisler and Schoenlaub bowled consistently, while Mason did not show his usual form.

Evening Stars—Mason, 145, 142, 167; Zeisler, 171, 160, 175; Schoenlaub, 181, 168, 146; Smith, 180, 177, 184; McRill, 148, 195, 184; totals, 826, 842 856, grand total, 2,526.

A PLEASANT VOYAGE TO FOREIGN PLACES

Presbyterians Plan for an Odd Journey.

SOME TO INCREASE THE SUNDAY-SCHOOL

Two Steamers Are Scheduled To Sail Next Sunday—Each Ship Will Bear an Equal Number of Members of the Sunday-School—The Ports To Be Visited.

What promises to be a profitable and pleasant "voyage of the sea" will be the sailing of two well-known "ocean liners" from the port of New York, next Sunday morning, with an equal number of passengers aboard, and all bound for foreign lands.

The preparations for this "tour of the Orient" were made and completed at the First Presbyterian Sunday-school by Superintendent Nelson, who has been designated "Commodore of the Fleet."

Two steamers, the Lusitania and the Mauretania, have been chartered and will be in command of Frank Schrote and Mrs. Lucy Lust, respectively. Ray Bryant, ticket seller at the union station, has been selected as general passenger and ticket agent and, as a matter of fact, will answer all questions relative to the "voyage" with that same degree of patience and sweetness of temper he manifests when dealing with passengers who ask, "When does the 9:45 Erie train leave for Galion?"

The Sunday-school has been equally divided and, therefore, both steamers will sail with an equal number on board. The schedule has been so arranged that the boats will touch the following places:

London, Paris, Naples, Rome, Constantinople, Cairo, Joppa, Jerusalem, Tokyo, Seoul, Peking, Manila, Honolulu, San Francisco and Marion.

At each place the tourists will be given ample time to visit scenes of greatest interest and hear the history of that particular place recited by the grand lecturer and historian, Rev. G. M. Rourke, who will graphically describe and portray the interesting features connected therewith.

The object of this ocean voyage has a two-fold measure. First and primarily, it is to increase the attendance at Sunday-school, and, second, to create a greater degree of interest along the line of missionary work.

The "passengers" on each steamer will endeavor to increase their respective list by soliciting new scholars and urging friends to attend Sunday-school, and the steamer whose list is increased the most will have reached port first; that is, if the "crew" of the Lusitania secures more new scholars by next Sunday, then she will be designated the fastest steamer, and will be so rated until the result is known on the following Sunday. The contest is on. Get on board one or the other of these steamers.

W. B. DEVENY OPENS A NEW RACKET STORE

Store Is Located on South Main Street.

W. B. DeVeny, who conducted a racket store on north Main street prior to going to Portland, Oregon, about a year ago, opened his new store in the room formerly occupied by Marx Brothers & Hess on south Main street, Saturday. No formal opening was held.

Mr. DeVeny will conduct a store similar to the one formerly conducted on north Main street. He is carrying a fine line of domestics, china, tin and aluminum wear and other articles usually carried by a racket store. There will be no shoe department in connection with the present quarters.

Mr. DeVenry needs no introduction to the Marion public, having been in business here many years, during which time he gained and held the respect and confidence of the public. About one year ago, he disposed of his store and with his family went West and located at Portland. He did not find the conditions there satisfactory for his business and several months came to the conclusion that Marion was plenty good enough. He returned home and again entered the racket-store business, this time in a much better location and in a much nicer room.

FRANK WILHELM IS RELIEVED OF CHARGE

Is Dismissed by Justice Conley Monday Morning.

Former Policeman Frank Wilhelm, who was arrested on a charge of stealing a bag of money containing $29.31 from J. O. Bolton, a collector, was dismissed by Justice Charles H. Conley, Monday morning, because of a lack of evidence.

Wilhelm pleaded not guilty when arraigned Saturday. He demanded a preliminary examination, which was continued until Monday. Wilhelm claimed that he had never seen the bag containing the money and a man employed by Wilhelm swore that he had not seen the money bag either.

At the conclusion of the evidence, which was decidedly favorable to Wilhelm, Justice Conley promptly dismissed the action. A civil action may follow.

Let us not despair. Life is still sweet despite the fact that $2,709,959 worth of phonographs were sold last year.

The queerest thing about the situation is that the railroads never discovered till this late date that the government was robbing them of $20,000,000 a year.

It is hardly probable that the "engagement" at Agua Prieta will hold a place among "The Decisive Battles of History."

So far as Marion is concerned, since we are naturally due to continue in a Democratic congressional district, we can see no objections to the arrangement of the new Thirteenth. Sandusky was an agreeable companion, but Huron furnishes a fair exchange, and it is like a reunion to be joined once more with Delaware and Morrow. The district will be less dependably Democratic. The removal of Sandusky takes out 800 to 1,200 Democratic plurality, while Huron, Morrow and Delaware, under normal conditions, are good for 1,500 Republican plurality. The new Thirteenth will not be hopeless to Republicans, when the party strikes its real stride again.

"If I didn't take the isthmus of Panama and make the canal possible, who did?" asks Colonel Roosevelt. We have seen something which was manifestly intended to make the general public believe that the fierce and warlike Panamans threw off the Colombian yoke and established a government of their own, but, of course, if the colonel was the dirfecting mind, and admits it, we haven't a word to say.

The federal treasury department is calling in the $1,000 and $10,000 greenbacks, in order to guard against future heavy pulls on reserve gold. One is not obliged to send in his greenbacks of either denomination, but all the patriots working on this luminary of civilization have sent in their $10,000 bills, and this paragraph merely calls considerate attention to the example of compliance. Moreover, these days, one gets a lot of unlaundered money in having change made.

What's the matter with these Democratic administrations down East? A fire started in the Massachusetts capitol Monday morning. If Maine follows our suspicions will not down.

Something tells us that all state executives will not emulate the modest stand of Governor Marshall, who says that if the country does not want him for president it need not have him.

Another inducement for every small boy to strive to become chief magistrate of the nation is that the president gets a pass to all the games.

Tacoma having attempted to "recall" her mayor and failed, made the attempt again and succeeded. There is no denying that the recall is a great thing—for judges and clerks of election.

Some statistician has figured that the average cost of the general assembly to the taxpayers of Ohio is $50,000 a month. To us, the figures look a trifle low, but even at that we can not help thinking that fully as good laws as it turns out should be secured for less money.

We are heartily in favor of the Ohio Good Roads federation and its purposes, but it looks like a bad appropriation of postage to send its circulars into Marion county, where we will boast over 800 miles of piked roads by next Thanksgiving. What we need in Marion county is a consistent system of pike repairs.

It will be, we think, generally agreed that the legislature has no right to prejudice or prejudge the case against Judge Donnelly. The judge is under indictments alleging grave offenses against the law. On his first trial, the jury disagreed, and a new trial will begin later in the month. Under our laws a man is presumed to be innocent until proven guilty, and until the verdict of the jury is in, the judge is entitled to the benefit of that presumption. Any action taken by the legislature either for or against the judge might have a determining effect upon the jurors who should be guided by the evidence alone. If Judge Donnelly is found to be guilty, his retirement from the bench is certain. If he is acquitted, he should be removed only upon evidence touching his qualifications as a judge. In the meantime, he will probably not have opportunity to preside over a court, and ordinary propriety would certainly influence him to refrain from so doing until his own case is disposed of. For these reasons it seems that nothing would be gained by hasty legislative action and certainly no harm caused by delay and deliberation.

MOTOR VEHICLE ETIQUETTE AND POLICE REGULATION

We can see very plainly that unless there is a general voluntary manifestation of automobile and motor-cycle etiquette or some drastic police regulation of abuses in motoring, Marion is going to have a very unhappy summer. We should prefer to preach the practice of considerate motoring, but we fear we shall get no relief unless we can effectively appeal to the police department.

Just why a person acquiring a motor vehicle should imagine all others not so possessed to be inferior beings, who make up a community without title to any consideration, is beyond understanding. A machine, whether a dinky, a big touring car or a noisy motor-cycle, seems to place some persons beyond all thought of courtesy or consideration for safety.

We will not include speed regulations in etiquette. It is a requirement of the law. But thoughtfulness for others and becoming conduct ought to suggest the suppression of noise and the regulation of horns. The driver who continually sounds a blatant horn violates all decency in driving. The horn is a very necessary accessory to an automobile. It is required for warning pedestrians and vehicles of a motor-car's approach. Used considerately and courteously it offends no one. But the driver who rushes through a busy section, bleating at everybody, blowing them out of the way, is offensive to them all. The same type of driver goes through residence sections at all hours of day or night, sounding horns, like the proclaiming of a Juggernaut's carriage, and opening wide the muffler to add to the disturbance. Mufflers are put on cars to make them less noisy. The manufacturer proclaims it as a special advantage that his car is essentially noiseless. And good cars are nearly so. But cars are equipped with a muffler cut-out for a purpose, and there are times and places where it is unobjectionable. But fair consideration forbids its free use at night anywhere, and it ought not be opened in the city at all except for testing and correcting purposes. In the well-regulated cities such abuse would result in instant arrest. Why will motorists persist in annoying the great majority with blatant, bloviating, irritating reminders of their inability to think of those who are not riding? And in this matter of noise it is due to say that motor-cyclists are the worst offenders. A motor-cycle without a muffled exhaust is the noisiest creation of its size that human genius has ever fashioned, and its extreme unpopularity, which is needless, is wholly traceable to noisy, reckless riding.

Perhaps it is too much to hope to correct the offenses of ignorant driving. The smoking, stinking car that leaves an offending trail behind is utterly unnecessary. In the regulated cities the driver who does not suppress his burning oil and excess of gas is arrested as quickly as the offender in speeding. But we shall hardly expect this perfection in Marion. We can stop speeding, and the irregular cutting of corners. We ought to suppress the needless noise. The automobile use has become too general to go longer without regulation. The Star would like to appeal to drivers to correct these abuses and offenses themselves. If they will not, the police department must show its capacity.

Since Mr. Newton A. Fuessle's story, "The Mammoth Easter Party," has been given publication, it's too late to remedy the situation, but not too late to voice our indignation over his reference to a "half-starved owner of some chicken farm in Marion, Ohio." All our chicken raisers, apparently, are bringing their eggs to market in autos.

A Chicago minister holds that the world is more deeply submerged in sin today than ever before in its history. At times it has struck us that a little optimism from the pulpit wouldn't be a half bad idea. If the conditions today are as represented by this Chicago pastor which we most decidedly doubt they may be attributed, in part and no little part at that to just such pessimism on the part of the clergy. It is well to look conditions fairly in the face, but at the same time it must be recognized that such pessimism generally proves too great a handicap to assure a successful issue. The hopeful, whole-hearted fighter is the one to whom victory usually goes.

"Well, I am seventy-five years old, now," says "Uncle Joe" Cannon. "Whatever I have done, when I appear at the gate of whatever place I am going to, I shall walk with head erect and conscious of keeping my self-respect, whether I am to wear asbestos or a halo." It is to be wondered if all the fellows who battled against him for his stand on print paper can say as much.

Now we are told that General Sherman never said: "War is hell," but unfortunately for any hope those who enjoy unmaking history may have of sustaining their contention, there are yet too many of us alive who were present and heard him say it.

A New York man is seeking a divorce on the ground that his wife tickles the soles of his feet. Of course, if it develops that the tickling is done while he is crawling up the stairway with his shoes in his hand, then and in that case our sympathy would be entirely with the wife.

It probably can not be proved that the bill to engraft upon Ohio statutes the Oklahoma bank guaranty law was inspired by Columbus hotel-keepers who wanted to fill their hostelries with protesting bankers, but there is strong circumstantial evidence pointing that way.

It is not creditable to somebody that the supreme court should divide upon party lines on a question involving the right of a subordinate judge to act in the capacity of presiding judge, when designated to do so by his colleagues. It would seem that this was purely a question of law. We are not concerning ourselves with the merits of the question. It may be one on which lawyers or jurists might easily divide, but it is, to say the least, unfortunate that the division should be upon party lines, when, back of the question lies an action involving a political wrangle. We regret that the court could not unanimously adopt either the majority or minority view of the matter.

Thus far, the excellent example of President Taft in stopping so soon as he has concluded what he has to say has not met with general favor by the gifted spellbinders of congress.

MISS HELEN GOULD CHIEF ATTRACTION

Attends National Convention of the Y. W. C. A. in Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, April 20.—Miss Helen Gould, of New York, was the chief attraction at the opening of the national convention of the Y. W. C. A. here yesterday. The well-kown philanthropist, however, is keeping far from the madding throng during her stay in the Hoosier capital.

When Miss Gould arrived she was met at the station by her own private motor car, which had been sent ahead from New York. Within the privacy of her suite at a hotel, she received members of the local Y. W. C. A., and denied herself to all interviewers. The local workers declare they had to promise Miss Gould a sort of bodyguard to protect her from "camera fiends," and the crowd in general before she would consent to come here.

Miss Gould will attend the business meetings of the Y. W. C. A., but will entertain herself with trips over the city in her automobile.

AIR MATRIMONIAL TROUBLES TODAY

Mrs. Grace Brown-Herbert-Guggenheim-Wall's Motion Up.

Chicago, April 20.—The matrimonial troubles of William Guggenheim, youngest of the seven Guggenheim brothers, the smelter kings, of whom United States Senator Guggenheim, of Colorado, is one, will be further aired in the Chicago courts.

A motion of Mrs. Grace Brown-Herbert-Guggenheim-Wall for a review of the divorce decree she obtained from Guggenheim several years ago, is set for hearing, today, before Judge Lockwood Honore, who has already held that the divorce was valid, though the courts of Paris, France, have held that it was invalid, while the courts of New York have held it to have been valid.

Today's proceeding is a petition to Judge Honore, filed by Mrs. Guggenheim, to review his own findings and reverse them.

MORGAN'S TUNNEL IS A MERE MYTH

Prison Officials Declare Rebel Walks Out the Gate.

Columbus, O., April 20.—That General John H. Morgan, the famous Confederate leader, whose mysterious escape from the Ohio penitentiary Nov. 27, 1863, together with five of his staff, has puzzled historians for almost a half century, walked out of the pen to freedom through the front gate, either boldly or aided and abetted by officials at the institution, is the belief of authorities at the penitentiary.

After 48 years of searching the famous alleged Morgan tunnel was uncovered by prisoners excavating for the new cell blocks in the east wing of the building and, contrary to history, it has proven not to be the tunnel dug by the six men with spoons, but an air chamber, built when the buildings were erected, and extending from the main building to the old chapel.

RIOTING BEGINS IN FURNITURE STRIKE

Grand Rapids Patrolman Is Assaulted by Strikers.

Grand Rapids, Mich., April 20.—Rioting has begun to mark the furniture strike which is being waged in this city by 6,000 workers against the Manufacturers' association. The first blood was drawn when former employes of the Valley City Desk company assaulted Patrolman John Minogue. He was surrounded by angry and drunken rioters and felled with clubs and stones. John Van Woerkom, twenty, a striker, was arrested.

Today the ranks of the strikers are being augmented by the iron owrkers and trimmers. It is expected by tonight that 2,000 strikers more will be out.

The manufacturers openly declare that they will import strike-breakers from Cincinnati and Chicago.

A MOSBY GUERILLA SHOOTS HIGHWAYMAN

Veteran Proves Too Quick on Trigger for Robber.

Culpepper, Va., April 20.—J. H. Judd, a veteran of Colonel John S. Mosby's famous "rangers" and ex-sheriff of Culpepper, shot down a highwayman while the latter had him covered. Mr. Judd was driving to Culpepper in his buggy and while passing through a dark wood two masked men appeared. One bandit seized Mr. Judd's horse while the other ordered, "Hand over your pocketbook and be damned quick." Mr. Judd, reaching in his pocket, drew a revolver and pushed it into the highwayman's breast and fired. At the same instant the robber fired upon Mr. Judd and the ball passed through his hat. The second bandit released the horse to assist his comrade, and the horse ran away.

IS A DISGRACE TO CIVILIZATION

Wholesale Slaughter of Wounded by Mexicans Reported.

Washington, April 20.—Wholesale slaughter of wounded by the Mexicans during the fighting about Agua Prieta was reported in a telegram received here, yesterday, by Delegate Cameron, of Arizona, from a prominent Arizona business man, read:

"Big battle fought, Tuesday, at Agua Prieta. Red Cross refused permission to cross line to care for wounded. I have on best authority that they are putting to death all wounded including their own men. This condition is a disgrace to civilization."

THE SUN RISES OUT OF PACIFIC OCEAN

An exchange says: It is interesting to note that, while San Francisco and New Orleans were contending for the privilege of having the exposition, which was to open the way to the westward, no one seemed to grasp the fact that the entrance to the canal is more than 600 miles to the east of New Orleans.

When one visits the isthmus, he has many of his fixed ideas in regard to geography upset. He finds that the eastern end of the canal is farther west than the western end; he finds the canal running from a northwesterly to a southeasterly direction; he sits on a porch at Colon and watches the sun sink into the Atlantic; and, if he rises at the hour that most of the people do when at Ancon, he will see the sun come up out of the Pacific.

BILL WOULD DESTROY THE DOMESTIC TRADE

Ohio Seed Men Get Busy in Columbus This Week.

Columbus, April 20.—Ohio seed men succeded, today, in having the seed bill, fathered by the state agricultural board, referred back to the judiciary committee after it had been reported out for passage by the agricultural committee. It is expected that the bill will die in the judiciary committee.

According to seed men, the bill would destroy the domestic trade and permit of merchants in adjoining states shipping in seed of inferior quality.

The bill as now drawn, provides for a percentage of purity of over ninety-nine per cent.

It is claimed that it would destroy the Toledo cloverseed market, the largest in this country.

That Report Is Widely Circulated in New York.

New York, April 20.—A report that Robert Seton Beresford, brother of Lord Decies and Mrs. Burke-Roche, who recently inherited $1,000,000 from the estate of her father, Frank Work, are to wed, was widely circulated today. The couple have been in each other's company a great deal since the arrival of Beresford from England to act as best man at his brother's wedding. Mrs. Burke-Roche's latest husband was Aurel Batonyi, from whom she was divorced after her father had referred to him as a "fortune-hunting coachman."

UNCLE JOSHUA CAN NOT LOOK AT VENUS

Springfield Censor of Theatrical Posters Gets Busy.

Springfield, Mass., April 20.—The local censor of theatrical posters has prohibited the display of a bill of the "Old Homestead" showing "Uncle Joshua" standing in front of a small statue of Venus. In previous years the censor allowed the sheet to go on the billboards after a piece of white paper had been pasted over the body of the figure. This year, however, the censor decided that even with paper to clothe the statue the picture was "not proper."

New York, April 20.—Because a little girl recited James Whitcomb Riley's "An Old Sweetheart of Mine," which is the reverie of a man while smoking, Dr. Charles G. Pease has resigned from the International Art society, at a meeting at which the poem was recited.

Dr. Pease hates tobacco and he declared that the poem lauding the weed was rendered in "a most voluptuous and seductive way," and was not fit even for a fourth-rate concert hall.

LIFTING QUARANTINE ON SMALLPOX CASES

No Danger Whatever of a Further Spread.

ONLY FIFTEEN CASES REMAIN IN THE CITY

All with the Exception of One Suspect Will Be Released from Quarantine in a Couple of Days—Only One Suspect Quarantined in the Last Five Days.

The smallpox condition in the city is very much improved today and the indications are that the disease will be entirely wiped out within the next ten days. A number of those who have been confined with the disease were released, Thursday, and but fifteen cases remain in the city. The last suspect was quarantined last Friday, and there are no signs of any further spread.

Health Officer Bain said Thursday morning that the spreading of the disease is at an end, but every precaution will be taken by the health board and himself. He said that by the end of the week all of the cases with the exception of the one quarantined last Friday, will be ready for release. None of the cases are serious. Those who have been released have been pronounced entirely cured and have been put through the customary fumigation route and the homes have been thoroughly disinfected. Unless there is an unexpected turn in the way of new cases, the quarantine on the two schools, two churches, the moving-picture shows and other places of amusement will be raised the first of next week.

WHEN WAR'S ALARMS CALLED MARION BOYS

A Story of Fifty Years Ago Is Interesting.

ORGANIZATION OF A MARION COMPANY

Enlistment of Volunteers for K Company, Fourth Regiment, O. V. I., Is Begun Just Fifty Years Ago Last Monday—A Review of the Experience of Company Members.

Just fifty years ago, Monday, when all nature was springing into new life with the coming of the springtime and the birds were returning from the sunny Southland, the little village of Marion was wild with the alarms of war and the streets were filled with the sounds of martial music.

The birds were returning from a Southland that they could not know again for many years. A call had been issued by President Lincoln for volunteers to suppress a rebellious people. In the end, the call meant the laying of a devastating hand on that beautiful Southern country. It also meant the laying of the chilly hand of death on many of the sturdy sons who came rushing to the ranks for service beneath the starry banner and the Southern cross.

War was approaching. War hovered over every hearthstone and the thought of it chilled the hearts of anxious, praying mothers, of fearful, tearful little ones who could not fully understand its full meaning. With it came the note of patriotism and it found utterance in the martial music that even in days of peace causes a healthy man to clean his gun and remember that he is a descendant of worthy fathers.

There were reasons that day for anxious mothers and wives to turn fearful eyes to the old Bennett building which stood where the Marion county bank is now located. War is not wholly begotten by martial music. There is something deep planted in the human heart that endears the courageous to the flag, his country's flag. The flag floating on the gentle spring winds from the building carried not only an invitation to those possessed of the spirit of adventure, but to those who knew full well the hour of its distress and were ready and eager to rally to its defense.

Colonel A. H. Brown, a modest, unassuming, patriotic citizen, valued highest by those who knew him best, had opened a recruiting office in a dingy back room in the old Bennett building. He had been bronzed and hardened by service in the Mexican war. He knew full well what war meant and he was prepared to lead the sons and fathers of those who loved him most into the bloody strife and fight sturdily for the flag for which he had fought before.

The call to arms had been read by Citizen Smith or Citizen Jones who was so fortunate as to be possessed of a daily newspaper, a luxury in those days. The reading was heard by the shop workers, the farm boy, the clerk, merchant, preacher and all who made up the little knots of interested embryo warriors congregated about each reader in turn on the street corners. With the martial music and the flag, at early candle light, Brown, the willing fighter and the inspiring friend, was ready with his books for the enlistment of those of like spirit. He had not long to wait. Fate always chooses its masterpieces when war is brooding. The first man to place his name on the roll of K company, Fourth regiment, O. V. I., was the first man in the company who shed his blood for his country. It was Hiram Miley. Mischance has juggled the figures and the name of the second man to place his name on the honor roll is not available. There were three accessions to the ranks in quick succession. It was only a matter of who could get the eye and ear of the Mexican veteran presiding over the books first, as to who should lead, and the third was Frank R. Salter. The book is now one of his most highly-prized possessions, aside from the record which he and his companions made in the great war. The books says he was twenty years old. Weight, 140 pounds. Tinner by trade. He has a picture taken when he was sent back to Cincinnati as a crack drill sergeant and a recruiting officer. The picture is that of a substantial youth in good clothes.

The subject frankly confesses that the government dressed him up when he came back for recruits from the hardships of campaigning. It was a sort of enticement to those who hung half hinged on a doubt as to whether war was simply a bit of fun or a place where one might wear the skin off his shins. A place where one might bruise his heels in marching to a place where there was a possibility of being hungry, hurt or killed.

The picture was taken by the late William H. Moore. It was treasured by Mr. Salter's good mother through all the days of the cruel battling at Cold Harbor, Chancellorsville, Gettysburg and the twenty-seven engagements in which the company was involved. Not long since it was dug up from her treasure box and presented by her to him as a reminder of the days when the price of tin and sheet iron did not bother him half so much as whether he would be killed or get a square meal the next day.

But to get back to the story. The story of fifty years ago Monday.

The evening of April 17, 1861, witnessed the enlistment of twenty-two. It was an evening that only death can erase from the memory of those who witnessed it. There were those who were prompted by duty but forbidden by circumstance. There were those who hung hesitating and held over until the next day that they might talk it over with mother, wife or sweetheart. This matter of severing every sacred tie, of shedding every responsibility in a bread-and-butter way, and entering an obligation with a strong possibility of death, is not to be lightly considered. When twenty-two of Marion's sons had been enrolled, the recruiting office was darkened and the crowd went home to think it over.

That night lights burned in cottage windows until the redbird and the robin signaled the coming of the day. Every lighted window had its story. Some may have been comedies, but there were tragedies aplenty as time proved "The Bloody Angle," "The Sunken Road," "The Slaughter Pen on Little Round Top," the hordes of struggling desperate men in the wheat field at Gettysburg, the plunge to death of the Louisiana Tigers under Pickett and the shock of many battles was foreseen and felt behind those cottage windows throughout the night. When a home offered a father or son to the rolls of Colonel Brown he was offered as a sacrifice to the flag that had been fired on at Fort Sumter but three days before.

The eighteenth witnessed the enlistment of ninety-two men That was the strength of the company when it marched out of the village enroute to Camp Dennison in service for three months. Of the ninety-two men who passed out, seventeen were killed outright or died of their wounds within a few days and the company record shows that thirty-seven were wounded

The company left Marion for Camp Dennison, April 23. The night before its departure an election was held in the old city hall and A. H. Brown was elected captain, James Lefever, first lieutenant; W. H. Garrett, second lieutenant; Rev. Samuel Coulter, first sergeant; Byron Thomas, second sergeant; William M. Campbell, third sergeant; Frank R. Salter, fourth sergeant; John F. Uhler, Abner Ustick and Sampson Apt, corporals.

These were the officers when the company was mustered into service, May 4, and they took the company to the front.

Three months later the company was called on to reenlist for three years. Twenty-five members failed to reenlist, but came home and nearly all joined other companies or entered the cavalry or artillery

The company was in twenty-seven of the fiercest battles of the war. The first battle was at Rich Mountain and the last was the terrible struggle at Cold Harbor, where Wallace Wilson, whose time was to expire at sundown was instantly killed at 5 o'clock.

Another like circumstance in the history of the company is that of Johnny Roll, a little German, who was killed during a fight at North Ann river in Virginia. He was killed just a week before his time would have expired. He was a great fellow to joke and the boys were making merry with him the morning of the fight. Johnny was sober-faced and not responsive. Finally he said:

"Don't joke boys, this is the day I get it." Two hours later he was stretched dead on the field.

In the course of its service the company marched 2,450 miles on foot, traveled 2,049 miles by rail and 1,695 by water.

The average age of the members of the company was twenty-two years.

Of the original members of the company eighteen are living. They are William M. Camp, Frank R Salter, Sampson Apt, D. D. Booker, Ansona Benvenuti, John C. Carter, Wesley Free, Jonathan J. Hale, John Hardy, Samuel E. Hain, Edmond Kirby, Hiram Miley, Thomas J. Moon, John O'Brien, Ralph Spring, Joseph Short, Isaac Welchhonc and Fred Eskopp. The last named enlisted when he was under sixteen years of age. At Camp Dennison, the authorities refused to muster him in. The little German lad cried, and the boys through pity took him along as a sort of a mascot. Three months later, when the civil war began to show in its true proportions, he was mustered in for a service of three years and he served it.

Such is the story of one of the bravest little bodies of men that went to the front in 1861, and the comment of Mr. Salter in closing a reminiscence of the company is fitting. He said:

"Poor boys, poor boys, what they did to us was plenty. It was h—l; it was h—l."

DOG ACTUALLY TALKS GERMAN LANGUAGE

Seems To Bridge Gap Between Brute and Human.

SKEPTICAL SAVANTS ARE NOW CONVINCED

After Long and Careful Experiments Scientists Marvel at Astounding Performance of Don, the Wonderful Canine That Can Plainly Pronounce Words—The Story.

The Technical World magazine for May has the most remarkable leading article of the month—the first authentic description of the amazing feats of the speaking dog, "Don," of Hamburg, Germany. The Technical World says:

"When a few months ago faint rumors about a dog endowed with the gift of speech, first reported by German papers, gradually spread to America, most people skeptically shook their heads, believing it an open mystification or an effort of self-delusion. When, however, the most distinguished men of science showed their interest in that wondrous dog by a thorough investigation of his capacities, doubt was no longer permissable and the veracity of the report had to be conceded.

"Don's case is both autehtic and unique and whatever reports on other 'speaking' dogs may be current should be put down to effects of imagination. There may be other dogs capable of imitating one or two words, very much in the fashion of parrots, as a purely mechanical repetition of sounds to which no meaning is attached 'Don,' however, does speak, and is the only animal so far proved to do so.

"Speech to him is the expression of an inward impulse to communicate with his master and other persons, showing them his affection or requesting the fulfillment of some wish.

"At the age of six months, very much earlier than a human baby, he for the first time showed his extraordinary gift by pronouncing the first articulate word. He was standing near the table, looking with begging eyes at his master and when the latter happened to ask him: 'Would you like to have something?' he clearly replied: 'Haben'—have. After this startling performance, he obviously became the object of unusual interest.

"It is told of him that on once meeting an old woman from the neighboring village on her way to the market, he quietly stepped towards her, distinctly pronouncing the words: 'Don hunger, kuchen haben.' The poor woman was so frightened that she took to a speedy flight, leaving her basket behind her, in the firm belief that the dog was possessed of the evil one.

"The most wonderful thing about him is his talking with strangers quite as freely as with his own master. When therefore D. Pfungst, the well-known expert in the psychology of animals, and Dr. Vosseler, director of the Hamburg zoological gardens, wished to submit 'Don' to scientific tests, they had no difficulty whatever in making him pronounce every word of his repertoire. The phonographic record made on this occasion prove beyond doubt the identity of Don's speech with that of human beings. There are, it is true, some slight differences in pronunciation due to differences in the structure of the larynx, but these in no way detract from the distinctness of the words."

The Technical World has an extended and exceedingly interesting description of the tests to which Don has been subjected by scientists, with pictures of his dogship.

IMPORTANT DEAL MADE BY NEW SHOVEL COMPANY

Osgood Dredge Company, of Albany, Is Purchased.

IS LARGEST DREDGE CONCERN IN AMERICA

Osgood Dredges Will Hereafter Be a Product of the Marion Shovel & Dredge Company and Eventually Made in Marion—Progress of New Company Toward Manufacturing.

The Marion Shovel and Dredge company has just closed a deal of highest importance to itself and to the industrial growth of Marion. It has consummated the outright purchase of the Osgood Dredge company, of Albany, New York, taking over its business, its patents and patterns, temporarily acquiring its plant, and allying with the Marion concern for active management and engineering forces, and acquiring large stock-holding interests in the Marion corporation. Of course the good will and records and business of the Albany concern are included.

The financial consideration is not given out, but the purchase is made in entirety, with a merger of policies and interests, except that the Marion Shovel and Dredge company does not acquire the real estate and plant of the Eastern establishment. In this latter item originated the inspiration of the deal The Osgood people found their real estate hedged about on all sides, hindering all needed extensions. A new plant was growing necessary. The new Marion concern interested its owners and the new Marion plant was investigated, with the result that all concerned were pleased with the idea of uniting the oldest dredge business with the youngest candidate in the steam shovel and dredge field.

The Osgood business is the oldest established one in the country, dating back into the early fifties. Its line of dredges is very large, the company building for the Great Lakes trade, for the river contractors and the big business on the Atlantic and gulf coasts. The ten-yard clam shell dredge of their make is one of the best known in the world, and excavates to a depth of eighty feet. Probably the largest dipper dredge ever constructed is an Osgood, with a bucket capacity of fifteen yards and capable of excavating to a depth of fifty feet, below the water surface This enormous machine, along with other Osgoods, is now working on the Cape Cod ship canal. Osgood dredges are also largely employed in the barge canal of New York state, by the big contractors on the Atlantic seaboard, and by contractors in foreign lands. It is the company's boast that it has sold more dredges to the United States government than all other dredge builders combined Thus, it will be seen, the deal just closed is a vastly important one.

In taking over the Osgood business the Marion company secures the services of John K. Howe, its principal stockholder, a famous designer and patentee, and a well-known mechanical engineer. Mr. Howe is considered a most valuable acquisition.

The present plan is to continue the operation of the Osgood plant at Albany, until the new plant here is better developed and operated in full swing, after which there will be a gradual removal to Marion and ultimately all the lines of both companies will be built in the Marion shops.

The first group of new shops is practically completed, at the plant in the southern limits of the city, and some of the departments have been in operation for several weeks. Patterns for the first shovels are well under way, and General Manager Cheney said Friday that active manufacturing would soon be going on.

Though the Osgood purchase has increased the capital of the company beyond original plans, practically all needed stock has been subscribed, and the stock books are shortly to be closed.

Once the factory is under way, the new company will give some attention to another phase of its location and development. It owns 120 acres of land, and has platted a large addition for employes, for others who choose to build in that section of the city. Improved streets are soon to connect the company's platted district with Bellefontaine avenue, and the Prospect and Christian-Sawyer pikes, and it is expected to see new and attractive homes springing up. Every augury is favorable to a great and growing business and gratifying development

Sterling Pianos are Artistic

Setrling Pianos Last a Lifetime

What to Look For in a Piano

The buyer of a Piano in this day and age must ask other questions than—

WILL IT PLAY ALL RIGHT?

Any piano will do that, but how long will it last and keep its wholesome tone? This is what confronts the piano buyer of today with all the many makes of pianos on the market. There are three main elements in every piano—

TONE—QUALITY—DURABILITY

We advise your seeing the Sterling Piano. In it we have combined all these essential elements, and today the Sterling Piano is recognized as an instrument of the highest character.

A Testmonial From Achille Alberti

Gentlemen:—One of the most pleasurable incidents to myself, on the tour of the Scalchi Opera Company, was the use of the Sterling Piano, and I take great satisfaction in expressing my high appreciation of your wonderful instruments

The scale is thoroughly even and well balanced throughout, with a tone full and round, possessing a superior singing quality, especially adapted to the accompaniment of the voice. The touch is responsive and easy, with excellent repeating qualities. The Sterling Piano is truly a perfect instrument.

ACHILLE ALBERTI, Baritone.

FORMER MARION GIRL RANCHING IN WEST

Miss Kate Titus Writes About Her Experiences.

NOW OCCUPIES HER HOUSE ON A CLAIM

Passes Time Between Working on Ranch and Sewing at Ronan, Montana—Well Pleased with the Country and Believes Her Prospects Are of the Very Best.

Miss Kate Titus, who recently took up a claim near Ronan, Montana, has written another interesting letter to relatives in this city. It is given as follows.

Ronan, Montana, April 1, 1911

Dear Folks: It is two months yesterday since I filed on my claim and I have been living in my two-by-twice house just two days. I moved in Thursday noon and was practically settled by night. But when you have such a little bit of furniture and only one room, moving does not mean the long tiresome job that we have always considered it.

The man who is to dig my well has not yet arrived and I have to carry water from Orchard's well nearly three-quarters of a mile away. I carried two gallon buckets full, this morning, and the weight of those two buckets made it seem about the longest three-quarters of a mile I have ever walked.

I walked over to see Mac Mc-Jay Vaughan, yesterday. It is about two and a half miles across the fields, making me five miles for the day. When I first came out I found walking quite difficult on account of altitude, but I am getting used to it now. On a reclamation stone in front of my house the altitude is given as 3,034 feet above the sea level. I think Marion is about 1,000 or 1,200 feet, so it is not surprising that I notice the difference.

The fields are getting quite green now and are covered with buttercups and another yellow flower shaped very much like our bluebells at home.

The men are very busy plowing and fencing and seeding. Mr. Olason put part of his claim in wheat last fall and the field is beautiful, so green, and the seed came up so evenly. Nearly every one waited till this spring and are sowing a hard spring wheat. I am glad that both varieties are being tried so we can determine which will do the best.

I had a surprise shower given me this afternoon, by the women of the neighborhood. They came bringing cake and coffee to eat, and towels, dishes and cooking utensils for me. Little Joe Orchard insisted on calling the party "Miss Titus' shower bath." Mrs. Smith and Elsie Johnson took charge of affairs. They dressed Jimmie Orchard up in an April-fool's cap and had him carry in the basket of things and give them to me. We had lots of fun and no one would have thought that I had never seen any of them before I came out last December.

There are fifteen houses within a radius of one-half or three-quarters of a mile, so you see I don't lack for neighbors. I haven't met them all yet. One of the nearest is a bride and groom from Missoula.

The Round Butte I wrote you about is nearly a mile from my claim but looks like it was just over in the next field. It looks very much like our Indian mound, but is ever so much larger. When I get my horse I am going to ride around it, then I can give you a much better idea of its size. Did I tell you about another girl who has a claim near mine. Her name is Miss Carmilson. She has 120 acres, but a large portion is up the side of the Butte and can not be irrigated, can only be used as grazing land. I haven't met her yet, but am very anxious to and hope that we will be congenial.

Joe Wolfe, one of the homesteaders over west of here, sent some of the soil to an experiment station in the East for examination. He is a friend of one of the professors in the station and was furnished eight bottles to send samples of the soil, one bottle for each foot to the depth of eight feet. He was digging a well and could do it easily. We are all very much elated over the result. About two feet is alluvial soil and the rest volcanic ash and fine dry dust. The papers wrote him that it was one of the most fruitful soils when properly irrigated. Of course it is not just the same proportion over the whole location, but applies equally to the whole flat.

One of our neighbors above is J. J. Smith from the Big Red Rock valley and I think it looks well for us to have a man to come from the famous Butte location and take up land.

We expect to have rural delivery service here in June. Of course they won't deliver every day, but two or three times a week will be a great convenience.

The men all laugh at my bachelor housekeeping, but I like it very much and after the week I spent in bed I was very glad to get back to the shack. I am feeling quite well but look like a Indian. I have decidedly burned and expect to look worse before the summer is over.

Lovingly,
Kate.

Bachelor: I receive a few days ago a letter from a lady stating that she had perfect a pony weighing about 900 pounds, with which she expected to go to and from her ranch. She added that she had a comfortable tent at nights and was not in the least afraid. There are still three tribes of Indians in that vicinity, but they dress just the same as white people. A herd of buffaloes is still roaming at large on the reservation, although many of them have been captured and sent to Canada.

Miss Titus, when it is not necessary for her to remain on her claim, is sewing at the hotel in Ronan, and says that she has more work than she can take care of.

Lest any sufferer doubt that the cures made by Doan's Kidney Pills are thorough and lasting, we produce confirmed proof—statements from Marion people saying that the cures they told of years ago were permanent. Here's a Marion case:

Mrs. H. Rice, 231 Lincoln Ave., Marion, Ohio, says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills in my family with excellent results. Some ten or twelve years ago we first procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Schmidt & Co.'s Drug Store and they proved to be a genuine kidney medicine, living up to all the claims made for them. At that time I freely gave a statement for publication, recommending Doan's Kidney Pills and now I can say that lapse of time has not changed my high opinion of them."

WANTS MARION COUNTY TO SHARE THE EXPENSE

Delaware County Has a Bill of About $700.

Marion county will be asked to pay a part of the $700 bill which Delaware county is facing on account of the Maloney smallpox case. The claim of the Delaware county officials is based on the fact that Maloney moved to Delaware in February, and that previous to that he resided in Marion four months, making his home at a boarding house. The Delaware county officials figure that Marion should stand $500 as this county's share of the expense. Delaware county authorities have already referred the matter to certain Delaware and Columbus attorneys, who state that there is no reason why Marion county should not bear some of the expense. The local authorities will undoubtedly fight the matter on the ground that Maloney was never a legal resident of Marion county.

The combined petitions will be known as the Osbun. The joint-county pike will begin on the township line between Grand and Montgomery townships, then run to the Wyandot county line, where it will extend east on the county line a distance of one mile, and terminate in Salt Rock township at the Morial town pike, the total distance being four and one-half miles.

Charles Hoch, of Wyandot county, and Henry Will and W. H. Osbun, of Marion county, were appointed pike commissioners.

Commissioners Ash and Hollinshead, of Wyandot county, and Prosecuting Attorney Charles F. Close, of Upper Sandusky, attended the meeting. All of the Marion county commissioners were present, together with County Surveyor Edward S. Ault.

From the number of petitions filed with the commissioners for new pikes, the commissioners declare it will be a physical impossibility to complete all the work this year. Marion county already has nearly 800 miles of pikes, and Commissioner W. H. Holverstott declares the county is one of the best improved in the pike line in Ohio.

WILL KEEP A HORSE AND BUGGY IN FUTURE

A Resolution Adopted by County Commissioners.

Complying with the rule of the attorney general, County Commissioners A. H. Trout, Henry Seltet and W. H. Holverstott, Thursday afternoon, adopted a resolution providing for the keep of one horse and buggy for Sheriff John G. Stark, instead of allowing him livery hire which has been in the past.

In the future the county will buy the feed for one horse for the sheriff, keep it shod and pay the expenses of all repairs.

Last year a sum amounting to several hundred dollars was allowed Sheriff Stark for livery hire. In some counties the commissioners have purchased a horse and buggy for the sheriff, but the Marion county commissioners say they interpret the attorney general's ruling that the county only is to pay for the keep of the horse and the repair of the wear and tear on the buggy, the sheriff to furnish his own outfit. State Examiner H. B. Sage places the same interpretation on the law.

The resolution was unanimously adopted.

LULU STEVENS SUES FOR A DIVORCE

Plaintiff Says Her Husband Is Very Abusive.

ASKS RESTORATION TO HER MAIDEN NAME

The Partition Suit of Elma Beck Against Margaret Hite and Others Is Settled Out of Court—H. O. Pittinger Begins Suit Against John White Wednesday.

Alleging gross neglect, failure to provide and extreme cruelty, Lulu Stevens, through Attorneys Eymon & Thompson, brought an action for a divorce from Wilmer Stevens, Wednesday, in the common pleas court. The plaintiff was married to the defendant, May 20, 1902. She says he repeatedly struck her and threatened to kill her. She asks that she be given alimony, and declares that her husband is a strong man, capable of earning from $2.50 to four dollars a day. She asks to be restored to her maiden name of Fallett.

An injunction restraining the defendant from interfering with the plaintiff or disposing of the household goods was granted by Judge William F. Duncan.

The partition suit of Elma Beck against Margaret Hite and others has been settled by all the parties agreeing to sell the farm of 121 acres in Grand Prairie township to Rev. Levi V. Hite for $14,136. Margaret Hite, widow of Benjamin F. Hite, will receive $1,992.61 as her dower interest. Charles Beck, who has the premises under lease, will receive $300 for the surrender of his lease by November 1, 1911, the amount to be paid by Margaret Hite, Alice Brown and Elnora Bibler.

H. O. Pittenger against John White is the title of a petition filed in the common pleas court by Attorneys Crissinger & Guthery. The plaintiff seeks to recover judgment for $590 on two promissory notes and asks six per cent. interest from June 17, 1908.

French Crow, administrator of the estate of Margaret Ruth, deceased, Wednesday, through Attorneys Crissinger & Guthery, filed a petition, in which he asks for an order of distribution. Elizabeth Boor and forty-nine heirs are made defendants. Administrator Crow says he has $2,945.72 in his hands for distribution, but fears he can not distribute it safely for the reason that the heirs-at-law and legal representatives of Margaret Ruth, who was the widow of Coonrod Ruth, who died March 11, 1895, claim to be entitled to all of the fund in his hands to the exclusion of the heirs-at-law and legal representatives of Coonrod Ruth and that the heirs-at-law and legal representatives of Coonrod Ruth and that the heirs-one-half of the amount in his hands as administrator of the estate of Margaret Ruth.

FOUR FELLOWS LANDED IN THE CITY BASTILE

Tough Characters Who Are Drunk and Disorderly.

DISPOSITION TO FIGHT THE OFFICERS SHOWN

One Fellow Tries To Run Away and Chief of Police Fires at Him—The Quartet Will Be Held at City Prison for a Time—Complaints as to Bicycle Riders.

Chief Klinefelter and Officer Thompson received word Thursday, that four hoboes were intoxicated and using profane language in the vicinity of the corner of Wilson and Dix avenues. The officers started for the men, meeting them at the corner of Center street and Dix avenue. The men showed a fighting disposition. One of them started to run after they were taken in charge by the police. Chief Klinefelter followed him and ordered the man to stop. On his failure to comply with the order the chief fired at his feet, the bullet tearing up the earth a few inches from him. On the second command the fellow threw up his hands and surrendered. Although the men have trades, they appear to be the toughest set that have visited here in years and it is the opinion of the local police that they are wanted in some other place. They are being held at the local station for intoxication and disorderly conduct and will not be given a hearing until Friday.

Mayor Seiter has received a few complaints in the last couple of days in regard to boys and men riding their bicycles on the sidewalks in various parts of the city. Not only is the practice followed on streets where it is impossible to ride except on the walk, but on streets that are paved. One wheel rider ran into a child on Greenwood street, the father of the child reporting the matter. The mayor asks that all persons riding on the sidewalks be reported to him and they will be arrested and penalized for the practice. He states that the walks are for pedestrians and they should not be endangered by careless riders.

ONE STEP NEARER TO BAPTIST UNION

Free Baptist Congregation Takes Necessary Action.

The Free Baptist congregation, at its meeting, Wednesday night, took all possible action toward the union of the Marion Baptist churches. The constitution recommended by the joint committee of the general conferences was adopted, with the single exception of the name of the united church, which is left to a committee representing the two Marion congregations. The congregation also adopted the covenant and articles of faith of the Baptist church, and passed a resolution declaring the former Free Baptist body a Baptist church and formally requested the council of the Mt. Vernon Baptist association for affiliation with that association. The congregation will continue to send delegates to the Free Baptist conference until the general union of the two denominations is consummated.

The completion of the union now rests with the regular Baptists. It is understood that the program contemplates, first, the admission of the former Free Baptist church by the Mt. Vernon association, then the transfer of the membership of the State Street Baptist church by letter.

The united congregation will number close to 400, and will give the Baptists a conspicuous place among the church organizations of Marion.

Only one point at issue called forth any extended discussion in adopting the necessary church constitution, and that was the matter of communion. It is an old ceremonial bone of contention. The new constitution ignores the question as far as possible by declaring "there shall be no invitation communion."

THE LOVE STORY OF METHODIST PASTOR

Adena Divine Weds Daughter of Insurance Commissioner.

Columbus, April 20.—Miss Pauline Amelia Lemert, daughter of State Insurance Commissioner Lemert, was secretly married, last night, to the Rev. Alvin T. Wooley, a Methodist minister, of Adena, Jefferson county, Ohio.

The love story of Miss Lemert and Rev. Mr. Wooley reads like a novel. The minister, while visiting in Zanesville, saw a photograph of Miss Lemert. He announced his intention of coming to Columbus to meet her.

Shortly afterward, he arrived in Columbus and sought a friend, Rev. Mr. Smith, of the Fifth Avenue Methodist church, who also knew Miss Lemert. He agreed to introduce Mr. Wooley, and the courtship and engagement followed.

The pair made up their minds to marry at once, because the Methodist conference in June would have interrupted their honeymoon. They went to the court-house and secured a license and a promise that the secret would not be published. They were married by the Rev. Mr. Shirer, at his residence on Gage street.

Miss Lemert is an attractive young graduate of the Ohio State university. Her brother also eloped and married some time ago. The Rev. Mr. Wooley is twenty-three years of age, and has been in the ministry three years.

Four Others Injured in a Cincinnati Explosion.

Cincinnati, O., April 20.—Chris Pieper, forty, a yeastmaker, was instantly killed and four other workmen were severely injured in an explosion, this morning, at the Fleischmann company's distillery, Riverside. The men were cooking mash in a vat holding 100 gallons of grain, when fermentation caused the explosion. William Quinn, one of the injured, was blown through a second-story window. Two other men working in the same room leaped twenty feet to the ground and escaped injury. A side wall of the distillery was blown out. The property loss was $2,000.

POSSES SEARCH IN HILLS FOR NEGRO

Black Assaults White Girl at Ellersville, Maryland.

Cumberland, Md., April 20.—Armed posses are, today, searching through the hills in Allegheny county for the negro who late yesterday assaulted Eva Lowery, fourteen, daughter of Perry Lowery, of Ellersville, six miles from here. The girl was overcome after a fierce struggle.

The attack has dangerously stirred up the whites in this vicinty, and it is feared that if the girl's assailant is captured the authorities will have difficulty in preventing a lynching.

TWO PRESBYTERIES WILL UNITE SOON

Many Presbyterian Ministers Favor the Plan.

The Marion and Bellefontaine Presbyteries of the Presbyterian church may be united if a plan now being considered by the Bellefontaine Presbytery at a meeting at Kenton is adopted. The change would affect the scope of the Presbytery work very greatly and many of the ministers in both Presbyteries are said to favor it.

Insane Woman Terrorizes Passengers.

Columbus, O., April 20.—An apparently demented woman, aged about 50 and name unknown, was taken from a Pennsylvania train at the Union station after she had terrorized passengers for several hours. The auto patrol was called and she was taken to the county jail. Probate court attaches are investigating her case. She is thought to live in Philadelphia. She thinks "devils" are chasing her.

THE OLD CITY HALL IS DAMAGED BY A FIRE

First Report Is Regarded as a Joke by Firemen.

THE WATER PRESSURE IS EXTREMELY GOOD

Equipment Is Hastily Taken from the Building and Lines of Hose Are Soon in Action—Some Doubt as to Repairs Being Made—The Books of City Are Saved.

With a few minutes more of a start before being discovered, fire would have destroyed the city hall Tuesday night. As it turned out, the alarm was given just in time, and the water pressure being unusually good, the structure was saved, but the building is so badly damaged as to make it a question as to whether it is worth repairing.

The fire was first discovered by John Gano at 10:05 o'clock. Gano saw smoke coming from the roof of the building and going to the fire department door informed the firemen that the building was on fire. The chief and three of the firemen were sitting in the office at the time reading. As Gano is quite a joker, all of the firemen thought he was joking. One of the men went to the door, and while Gano took him around the building to show him the smoke, Dr. D. O. Weeks rapped on the window and made the same announcement.

The wagons and horses were taken from the building, and the alarm was sounded. The West End department responded to the call, and in a short time two lines of hose were laid. The good pressure of water enabled the firemen to extinguish the blaze in a short time, but not until the roof of the structure was burned through in a number of places.

During the blaze, many people busied themselves in carrying books and other articles of value from the structure.

The blaze had its origin in the attic in the extreme east end of the building, over police headquarters, and is supposed to have been caused by mice chewing matches left in some old clothes in an upstairs room used as a rubbish-room. As there was no person around polic headquarters, the firemen were compelled to break glass to gain an entrance and reach the seat of the blaze. Nearly every minute man and all of the firemen worked to save the building.

The members of the police department and the mayor have moved to the new quarters recently leased by the city council in the Masonic temple. The quarters for the police and mayor are to be in the corner room, formerly occupied by the postoffice, but as the room has not been put in shape, they moved into the rear room temporarily. The moving of the other city offices is contemplated for the early part of next week. While the mayor and the police are cared for in the new quarters, something will have to be done to provide a place for the firemen. The plastering of the ceiling in their sleeping room is falling continually and there is no question, but that the fire weakened the structure. The roof is full of holes and water poured through during the rain Wednesday. The matter of providing a place for the firemen will probably be taken up at the meeting of the city council Monday night.

miles of canals, including parts of the Hocking, Walhonding and Ohio canals, the latter below Lockbourne; the Columbus feeder and one or two other small sections of canal. Most of these properties have long been in a state of disuse. In some instances farmers have extended fields right through the canal beds, and numerous other encroachments also are known to exist.

The senate also passed the Purinton bill to authorize counties in northeastern Ohio to issue bonds, if they wish, to contribute to the construction of the canal extending from Ashtabula, O., to Beaver, Pa.

Says He Was Crucified.

Columbus, O., April 20.—"I want to say to the senate that I have the supreme satisfaction of knowing that I was crucified like Christ with the book trust on one side and the Anti-Saloon league on the other," declared Senator H. L. Yount of Darke county on the floor of the senate, after his bill for state uniformity of school books had been defeated in the senate for the second time. Yount charged that the men who had led the fight on the school book bill in each house were Anti-Saloon league men. The bill received but 14 votes to 17 against it.

For Freedom of Press.

Columbus, O., April 20.—The house passed the Bader bill, permitting newspapers to publish reports of court, legislative and other public records and proceedings. The vote was 92 to 12. The bill has already passed the senate. It now goes to the governor.

KEEP HANDS OFF WILL BE POLICY

Uncle Sam's Stand on Mexican Situation.

CONFERENCE HELD AT WHITE HOUSE

Mexico Says She'll Maintain the Restrictive Policy.

Four Things, President Taft Believes, Combine To Create a Condition of Affairs Which He Thinks May Result in Disorder Along the Border Line and Perhaps Injury to Americans.

Washington, April 20.—Direct from President Taft came the statement, this afternoon, that the United States will keep "hands off" the Mexican situation, despite the confident belief that further repetition of the Douglas episode may be expected.

Following a conference at the White House between the president, Secretary of State Knox, Chairman Sulzer and Representatives Gardner, Sharp and Foster, it can be authoritatively stated that the attitude of the administration remains unchanged.

Four things, the president thinks, combine to create a condition of affairs which he believes may result in disorder along the border line and perhaps injury to Americans. They are:

The obsolete neutrality laws; overwhelming pro-revolutionary sentiment of Americans along the line; inability to control irresponsible persons and the fact that border towns, because they are customs ports, are strategic points.

Restrictive Policy.

Assurances have been received by the president that Mexico on her side of the border will maintain a "restrictive policy." The United States will exercise even greater care on the American side to prevent interference in the Mexican situation by "irresponsible individuals."

The president believes the situation can be controlled. He believes, however, that there may be repetitions of the Douglas incident.

The president learned that the text of the reply to be made by Diaz to his note will contain renewed assurances of friendliness and a desire to cooperate in preserving order along the border. In the face of this information the president is "standing pat," taking exactly the same attitude he outlined in his telegram to Governor Sloan, of Arizona.

The president thinks the proposal for the creating of a "neutral zone" along the border is impracticable, because the customs houses are sought by both sides in the revolution.

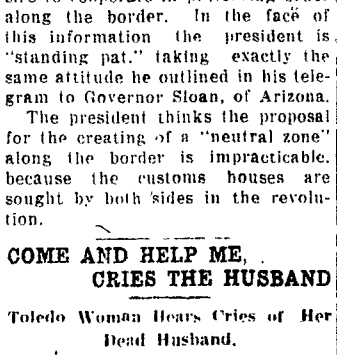
COME AND HELP ME, CRIES THE HUSBAND

Toledo Woman Hears Cries of Her Dead Husband.

Toledo, Ohio, April 20.—"Come and help me before it's too late," is the cry that Mrs Andrew Ardner, thirty-five, hears every night from the lips of her husband, dead and buried a month ago. She can not rid her dreams of this vision and has petitioned City Health Officer Becker to permit the opening of her husband's grave in Forest cemetery that she may rid herself of the haunting fear that he was buried alive.

The health officer reasoned with her that the process of embalming alone assured death before burial, but the specter that haunts the woman's dreams will not down. Permission to open the grave has been refused as permits are not granted except during the winter months.

AMERICAN SUFFERS AN AUTO ACCIDENT



MR. H. GORDON SELFRIDGE.

London, April 20.—Mr. Harry Gordon Selfridge, the London merchant, formerly of Chicago, his mother, wife and a daughter, were all injured in an automobile accident near Ambleside, Westmoreland county, a few days ago. The party were touring the Cumbrian mountains, and were not far from the head of Lake Windemere. Their automobile was descending Kirkstone pass when the brakes failed and it ran away, swerving finally from the road and plunging with great force into the side of a house. The car was smashed into bits and its occupants hurled to the ground. Mr. Selfridge was severely cut and received a concussion of the brain, being rendered insensible.

BITTER PROTEST IS MADE TODAY

The Postoffice Department Is Hotly Grilled Today.

Washington, April 20.—Bitter protest against the efforts of the postoffice department to prevent the unionization of railway mail clerks was made by President Gompers and Secretary Morrison of the A. F. of L. before the house committee on reform in the civil service today.

They alleged that "third degree" methods were practiced to force clerks to agree not to join the union, and that the clerks' constitutional guarantees were violated. Gompers presented the oath of the federation to show that it was not a secret organization. Morrison said that George W. Nichols, of Cleveland, Ohio, was discharged after twenty-two years of service, following his refusal to promise not to join the union.

The committee will summon department officials and make a full inquiry.

In the car with Day were Edgar D. Kelley, George A. Hancock, and his son, Edward A. Hancock. All four men were arrested on a charge of manslaughter.

Miss Thomas' father appeared on the scene and questioned Day as to how the accident happened. "It doesn't matter how it happened; my insurance will take care of it all," responded Day. Hardly had the words left Day's lips when the half-crazed father sprang upon him. It took four policemen to restrain Thomas.

complaints against the conduct of American soldiers and officials at Douglas, Arizona, who are alleged to have given aid to the revolutionists. It is asserted that Lieutenant Tronsoco, of the federal army, was wounded by a shot fired from the American custom house.

Special complaint is made against a "Major Gardner" (Captain Gaujot?), in command of the American troops at Douglas, Arizona alleging that he interfered in behalf of the rebels.

Reference is made to the fact that a rebel whose gun was out of order crossed the line and had it repaired by an American soldier. The note is said to quote a sworn statement by John Dean, of Douglas, Arizona, to the effect that the insurgent forces at Agua Prieta were largely composed of Americans.

The whole tenor of Diaz's reply is said to be that while the Mexican government deplores the occurrences on the border, it does not hold itself responsible and blames the United States for the condition which Taft specifically asked Diaz to remedy. It is said to state in plain language that in the opinion of Diaz's government the United States is either misinformed, or is wrongfully interpreting the situation.

A jury in the common pleas court, Wednesday evening, returned a verdict of $3,750 in favor of the plaintiff in the $10,000-damage suit of John Weston against the Marion Malleable company. The jury retired for deliberation about 5 o'clock and reported two hours later.

This is the second verdict for damages that Mr. Weston has obtained against the Marion Malleable company. The first he obtained was for $2,900. It was taken on error to the circuit court, which reversed the judgment of the lower court and declared the verdict was rendered against the wight of the evidence. The case was remanded back for re-trial.

At the close of the plaintiff's evidence, Wednesday, the defendant's counsel made a motion to arrest further evidence from the jury and asked the court to direct the jury to return a verdict for the defendant. Judge Duncan overruled the motion.

The trial was featured by numerous scraps between opposing counsel.

Mr. Weston, the plaintiff, was permanently injured while employed by the defendant company.

The jurors were John Metzger, Edward Fisher, George Heimlich, Jacob Zimmerman, H. K. Brown, S. Cox, W. P. LaRue, J. A. Rayl, John Hogan, J. H. Eversall, Charles Patten and Michael Jacoby.

Nearly three years ago when returning home from the Silver Street school building to his home on Toledo avenue, the Blue boy was injured while attempting to cross the tracks, which, the petition alleges, were blocked by a string of freight cars.

Attorneys DeGolley & DeGolley represent the plaintiff, while Attorney Fred Rector, of Columbus, and Attorney George B. Scofield, of this city, are the railway company's counsel.

Rudasill, Doris V Rudasill and Howard Rudasill, the last three minors, is the title of a suit in partition filed by Attorneys Crisringer & Guthery in the common pleas court, Thursday morning. The plaintiff says he is seized in fee simple, as a son and one of the heirs-at-law of L. H. Rudasill, deceased, of the undivided one-fifth interest in lot No. 4637 in the Miller, Crawley & Huber addition to the city of Marion. He asks that his interest be set off to him in severalty and prays that the dower of Martha A. Rudasill may be assigned, and partition be made if that can be done without manifest injury.

An answer filed at the same time by Martha A. Rudasill asks that partition be made as prayed for in the petition.

WANT THE TRIAL STAGED IN NAPLES

Camorrists' Trial May Be Moved Temporarily.

Viterbo, April 20.—The jurors in the Camorrists' trial, today, requested that the trial be temporarily staged in Naples so that they might study the environment under which the prisoners lived and visit the scene of many of their alleged crimes, including the murders of Gennaro Cuoccolo and his wife, for which they are now on trial.

The minister of justice instructed Judge Bianchi not to accede to the request. The minister says it would require 15,000 troops to preserve order if the jury visited the Camorra's Neapolitan headquarters.

Judge Bianchi, today, announced that he hoped to conclude the cross-examination of prisoners by April 22, and that the examination of the prisoners' accusers would begin not later than April 24.

It was rumored that Informer Abbattemaggio was about to confess actual participation in the crime to strengthen the government's case, in which event an entirely new inquiry would be ordered.

IS HOLDING UP THE RAILROADS

Postoffice Department Is Now Under Charges.

PRESIDENT PETERS MAKES STATEMENT

Claims Government Makes Millions from Roads.

Railroads Are Compelled To Carry Mail Clerks Off Duty, Officers and Inspectors That Would Mean $1,000,000 in Fares—Says $20,000,000 Is Made by Uncle Sam in Another Unfair Way.

New York, April 17.--Direct charges that the postoffice department, under present management, is "holding up" the railroads of the country for more than $20,000,000 a year, were made, today, by President Ralph Peters, of the Long Island railway. As vice chairman of the committee on railway mail pay, which represents more than 200,000 miles of road, Peters, today, issued a statement saying that the roads will demand that the government, inasmuch as it insists on regulating their rates, shall treat the companies the same as other business concerns are compelled to.

"More than a year ago," said Peters, "the postoffice department collected statistics from the railroads as to their receipts from express, mail and other passenger service. The result of the inquiry has been suppressed by the government, but an analysis by our committee shows that at the average rate received for everything carried on passenger trains excepting mails, a $1,250,000 more would have been paid for mail transportation during the single month covered by the inquiry of the postoffice department than actually was paid, or $15,000,000 for this item alone."

Undue Advantage.

The railroads are operating 3,800 apartment mail cars for the convenience of the postoffice in assorting mail in transit without receiving a cent for space. This work would cost the department $4,000,000 a year if performed under contract.

"The railroads are compelled to render free passenger service not provided for by law in transporting mail clerks while off duty that would amount to over $1,000,000 a year at the rate of two cents a mile besides being forced to carry free all officers, inspectors and agents of the department.

"By its exactions the government puts itself in a position of undue advantage which it would not permit to other users of transportation facilities. If we are to have government regulation and control we must have also government protection for the investor."

INSANE MAN'S AWFUL CRIME

Youngstown Man Practically Wipes Out Family.

SIX ARE DEAD; ONE BADLY HURT

Physicians Say That He Is Critically Wounded.

Father Uses Ax and Revolver In Ending Lives His Wife, Children and Self—Leaves Note Saying He Fears He Is Going Blind and Therefore Unable To Earn a Living for Family.

Youngstown, Ohio, April 18.- A father, crazy beyond a doubt, practically wiped out an entire family of seven, including himself, when Grant C. Rickert, of No. 129 east Chalmers avenue, this morning at 1 o'clock used an ax and revolver to kill his wife, Celia, aged forty-two, his daughter, Charlotte, aged eleven, and Helen, fifteen, brained Pearl, aged ten, and Raymond, aged seven, and attempted the life of Edwin, aged sixteen, who fought for his life and escaped seriously, but not fatally injured. The father, then locking the door, went to the second story and killed himself with a single shot

Critically Wounded.

Edwin Rickert.

A Horrible Sight.

Officers responding on the jump to the call, which was sent in by the boy through ex-Policeman Ben Davis, who lives across the street, found the most horrible sights that has ever been witnessed in such a crime in the city.

The boy, Edwin, blood streaming from great gashes in the back of his head and his right hand almost severed, led them to it. The mother lay in a bedroom off the first floor, dead, prone on the floor. Little Raymond, his skull crushed in and brains oozing out as well as being shot through the head, lay in a pool of blood on the bed his mother had occupied. Up stairs just off the top step, lay the father dead, and the blood surrounding him, the revolver still clutched in his hand. Just at the head of the stairs on a white iron bed, lay Charlotte and Helen, brained, mutilated and shot. Pearl, weltered in her blood, just around a partition which was meant to be plastered but which had never been. Another bed was vacant. Edwin had occupied it, but had fled down stairs when he heard the shots fired which were killing his mother and sisters.

Crazed Man's Act.

Edwin was sleeping by himself up stairs when he heard the cries of his mother, sisters and brother. He rushed down stairs just as his father was placing the revolver to his own temple. The father stopped long enough to seize the ax again and dealt the boy a terrific blow, after which he ended his own life with the revolver.

It was the act of a crazed man—insane, his relatives say, for years. Not a drinking man, he feared the coming blindness of himself and his children.

Rickert, for a number of years, had been a successful plumber, but recently had met with reverses to which was added approaching blindness. It was feared that he might not be able to support his family as well as the insane belief that they too might be similarly afflicted and that it would be better to kill them that led to the deed. On a table Rickert left the following letter:

"I am going blind. I fear the rest of my family will go blind, too, and I am going to spare them a life with me, helpless to care for them and blinded themselves. I am unable to pay anything more on my home and see no way but death. I believe my wife would rather die with me than later, so I shall take her with me.

"I am going crazy, I believe, if I am not already crazy."

IMPORTANT FIGURES IN THE INVESTIGATION OF ALLEGED MAL-ADMINISTRATION OF SING SING PRISON

WALTER J. NICHOLS. WILLIAM CHURCH OSBORN. E.D. LYNDE STENOGRAPHER. GEORGE E. VAN KENNEN.

Ossining, N. Y., April 18.--Political favoritism and petty grafting have cost the state thousands of dollars in the last decade in the administration of the Sing Sing prison, according to the testimony under oath of a half score witnesses in this city. The testimony was offered at the first public hearing conducted by William Church Osborn and George E. Van Kennen, special commissioners named by Governor Dix to investigate charges of corruption and mismanagement of state institutions. Two prominent republican politicians of northern New York—John F. O'Brien, one time secretary of state, and George C. Kellogg, son of the one time supreme court justice—figured in sensational disclosures in which the state is said to have lost thousands of dollars in the purchase of fuel for the prison. The fuel is said to have been sold at a figure, which an expert accountant testified, was far above the market price, and a grade of coal inferior to that for which the state had bargained. The name of Theodore Roosevelt's chief lieutenant at the Saratoga convention, Cornelius V. Collins, of Troy, state superintendent of prisons, was mentioned many times during the day's session.

THE TREASURY FACES DEFICIT

Goodbread Presents Appropriation Measure.

THE CONDITION OF STATE'S STRONG BOX

State Auditor Fullington Furnishes the Figures.

Bill Offered by Goodbread Calls for Appropriations Exceeding State's Income by $297,337.06—Measure Proposed To Subsidize Electric Line from Columbus to Girls' Industrial Home—Other Bills.

Columbus, O., April 18.- A deficit looms in prospect for the state treasury if the assembly passes the general appropriation bill offered in the house by Chairman Goodbread of the house finance committee. It carries a total of $5,934,416.69 to be appropriated this year. Together with special and other finance measures so far passed, the allowances for the year would be $9,229,407.77, an excess over the last year of $237,337.06.

State Auditor Fullington estimates income for the year at $8,500,000. There is no provision in the bill for canals, women's reformatory, or a new country prison. An allowance of $100,000, however, is made to continue the rebuilding of the present penitentiary.

The prison probe committee has recommended an immediate appropriation of $500,000 for a country prison. Governor Harmon, however, has indicated his purpose to veto any measure which means the abandonment of reconstruction plans already begun.

The appropriation measure provides for the appointment by the governor of a commission of three persons, not to be confirmed by the senate, and to serve without compensation, and which is authorized to enter into a contract with any electric railway company for the construction of a line of electric railway from Dublin, Franklin county, to or near the Girls' Industrial school in Delaware county. The sum of $50,000 is to be paid said electric railway company upon vouchers signed by said commission at such times and upon such terms as shall be agreed upon between the commission and such electric railway company and approved by the attorney general.

Mr. Frieholm of Cuyahoga county introduced a bill providing for the commission form of municipal government, when approved by referendum, after petition for an election signed by 25 per cent of the voters.

Mr. Day of Ross introduced a resolution providing for a joint committee of ten to investigate the charges against Judge Donnelly.

A VICIOUS ROAN MARE KILLS MISS ST. CLAIR

Young Woman's Death Is Predicted by Many Friends.

Philadelphia April 18.--Friends of Miss Goldie St. Clair, today, declare that the young woman's death late yesterday by a fall from a roan mare, a vicious animal, fulfills predictions they have been making for years.

Miss St. Clair, who last summer was the feature at the frontier celebration at Cheyenne, Wyoming, when Colonel Roosevelt remarked that a "bad horse would finally get her," was giving exhibitions here with a Wild West show. She lost her balance and fell beneath the horse being killed instantly. Hundreds saw the accident.

PROFESSOR EATS BREAKFAST ONLY

Does Day's Work on Twelve-Cent Meal.

DRINKS NO WATER; SLEEPS FOUR HOURS

Is a Spry Young Man at Age of Sixty-Six.

Cambridge Man Declares His Plan of Diet Not Only Makes Him Feel Younger, but Saves Time—Takes Fifteen-Mile Hike Every Day and Says He Plans To Eat Only One Meal in Two Days.

Boston, April 18.—A twelve-cent breakfast is all the nourishment Professor John H. Woods, Cambridge, requires to do a day's work, consisting of twelve hours' reading and study, and a ten or fifteen-mile hike. Professor Woods takes his daily twelve-cent meal at 7:30 in the morning. He is served with a cereal, a soup, four slices of wheat bread, four glasses of milk, one of which is hot.

For cereal the professor always eats oatmeal; for soup he likes pea, tomato or corn chowder, and for dessert pies and puddings.

For a year he has quit drinking coffee, and for years has not taken a drink of water, except on very hot summer days, and then only sparingly. He never has an appetite and believes that eventually he will be able to go two days on one meal.

"My plan of diet not only makes me a spry young man at the age of sixty-six," he said today, "but it also saves a great deal of time.

"I sleep the same hours that Napoleon did—from midnight until 4 in the morning. Too much sleep is as bad as too much food."

THREE DEAD IN A MORNING JOY RIDE

Chauffeur Takes Employer's Machine and Accident Follows.

Johnstown, Pa., April 18.—As the result of a joy ride at an early hour this morning, three colored people are dead and one injured through their automobile having crashed into a telephone pole.

The dead are. Mrs. Floyd Washington, aged twenty-three; John Mahoney, aged thirty-four; Eldridge Lewis, aged twenty-eight.

William Stewart, the chauffeur, who is injured, will recover. He is under arrest without bail.

Stewart had taken out the car of his employer Harry Swank, to convey a party of eight friends home from the ball of the Coachmen and Potters' club. He was "showing off" by driving at a terrific rate of speed when the machine skidded and ran into a telephone pole, narrowly escaping also going down a bank into the river. The car was smashed.

HILL'S POSITION MADE UNTENABLE

German Paper Comments on Hill's Attitude in Potash Affair.

Berlin, April 18.—United States Ambassador David J Hill's position was made untenable here today's Vossische-Zeitung, declares, as a result of the aggressive attitude he took in the negotiations between America and Germany relative to Germany's export tax on potash. It intimates that Hill gave such offense in this matter that his resignation was inevitable.

And many a young man loves a girl for the qualities she possesses which he wouldn't tolerate in his own sister for a minute.

A TRAGEDY OF FROZEN WOOD

Constables Bodies Found in Canadian Wilds.

MOUNTED POLICE DISCOVER BODIES

Diary Reveals Story of Men's Suffering.

Inspector and Three Constables, in Blinding Storm, Miss Peel River Pass Across the Rockies and Wonder On and On Until Provisions Give Out and the Men Drop Dead One by One.

Regina, Saskatchewan, April 18.—After being in the Canadian wilds since February 23, a Royal Northwestern mounted police patrol, under Corporal Denistoun, which left Dawson City for Fort McPherson, found the bodies of Constables Kinney and Taylor, thirty-five miles from McPherson, while ten miles nearer the fort they came across the bodies of Inspector Fitzgerald and Constable Carter.

The tragedy of the frozen woods is told in a message received here by Commissioner Perry, of the police headquarters' staff. Fitzgerald and the three constables started from McPherson for Dawson City, December 22, of last year. A diary kept by Fitzgerald revealed the story of their wanderings and sufferings.

The party, in a blinding snowstorm, missed the Peel river pass across the Rockies and wandered to the head of Wind river. Realizing that they were hopelessly lost and near starvation they turned back toward McPherson, January 18.

Leaves Crude Will.

At that time the four men had only ten pounds of flour, eight of bacon and some dried fish. They had 250 miles to go to McPherson.

Soon their food was gone and they plunged on through the snowstorm, killing and eating their dogs as they went. When almost in sight of their goal Kinney and Taylor perished. Their bodies, with hands folded over their breasts and handkerchiefs over their faces, were found under a distress flag Fitzgerald had raised when he left them to push forward with Carter. Carter died next and Fitzgerald laid him out and dragged himself a little closer to Fort McPherson. His strength failed him and he wrote a crude will leaving his property to his old mother in Ireland and died.

PUGILIST DIES AFTER FIGHT

Fighter's Opponent and Referee Are Arrested Today.

Waterbury, Conn., April 18.—As the outcome of a boxing bout in Turnhall, last night, William F Luke, thirty, died today. Pending the coroner's inquest, Joe Clancy, Luke's opponent, and Referee Daniel Buckley were arrested. Mayor William Hotchkiss and other city officials witnessed the fatal bout.

Luke was not in condition and was breathing heavily at the end of the third round. In the fourth round he became so exhausted that Clancy was declared a winner. Luke walked to his corner and went down stairs for a rub-down and bath. After a rub-down he collapsed. Physicians were called, but Luke did not regain consciousness and died this morning at 9 o'clock.

Bitten by a Dog.

COX WINNER BY DECISION

Supreme Court Refuses Motion of Prosecutor.

THE QUO WARRANTO WRIT POINT DECIDED

And Judge Dickson May Hear Cox Case.

Prosecutor Seeks Right To File Writ in Quo Warranto To Oust Judge Hunt from Acting as Supervising Judge and To Oust Dickson from Trying Cox Case Under Assignment of Judge Hunt.

Columbus, April 18.—George B. Cox won his case in the supreme court this morning.

That court handed down a decision in which it refused to grant the motion of Prosecutor Henry B. Hunt, of Hamilton county, for leave to file a writ in quo warranto to oust Judge Charles J Hunt, of the Hamilton county common pleas court from acting as supervising judge of that court and also to oust Judge William L. Dickson from trying the Cox case under assignment of Judge Hunt.

The court handed down the decision without comment.

The contention of the Cox attorneys was that the court was without jurisdiction, the office of supervising judge being a function conferred by other members of the same court and not an office recognized by the statutes.

Judges Spear, Price Shauck, and Davis voted against the application in the Cox case. Donahue and Johnson, Democrats, dissented to the opinion.

STOCK DIVIDEND DECLARED LEGAL

Union Central Life Insurance Company Wins by Decision.

Columbus, Ohio April 18.—The supreme court, today, declared legal the stock dividend made by the Union Central Life Insurance company, of Cincinnati, to its stockholders from the profits of the particicipating and nonparticipating policies. The amount was $400,000. The next step of the company will probably be to increase the capitalization to $1,000,000 and declare a stock dividend of $379,000 from the remainder left in the surplus fund from which the dividend was declared.

The suit was filed by former Attorney General Wade Ellis, who claimed the company had no right to issue a stock dividend from its policy profits because it was claimed to be a mutual company.

CLEVELANDER FALLS THIRTEEN STORIES

Is Picked Up Alive, Conscious and Talks of Accident.

Cleveland, April 18.—Oscar Naumei thirty-five, today, fell from the roof of the new Cleveland Athletic club building, thirteen stories, into the basement. He was alive, conscious and talking about the accident when they put him in an ambulance.

Naumei was working at the top of the elevator shaft with several other men, hoisting material onto the roof with a block and tackle. He reached out over the open shaft to grasp the suspended rope, missed it and plunged downward. His fall was unbroken and he landed on the basement floor.

Often people lead a man to believe that they admire him, when, as a matter of fact, they are only trying to work him.

DRUNKEN REBELS INVADE DOUGLAS

Flee Before Advance Guard of Federal Army.

GOVERNOR APPEALS TO THE PRESIDENT

And Declares to Taft That Situation Is Grave.

Streets of Douglas Are Crowded and Special Policemen Will Be Used To Maintain Order—Taft Sends Word to Mexican Government and to Insurgents Regarding Firing Across the Border.

Douglas, Ariz., April 18 — Having captured the first rebel line, the federal troops are continuing their advance on Agua Prieta. Antonio Garcia, a rebel leader, surrendered to United States troops. "Red" Lopez and many rebels under arms are now parading the streets of Douglas. The Mexican consul protested that he should be arrested.

It is believed the rebels got hold of mescal, with the usual result. They are sneaking across the line in large numbers and are mingling with the sympathizers on this side of the line. American troops are massing on Fourth street, prepared to patrol the boundary line.

Governor Sloan sent a long telegram to President Taft on the gravity of the situation. This was done before the rebels began to surrender.

The streets of Douglas are crowded and special policemen will be used to maintain order. Upon a signal from the Copper Queen smelter all the saloons will be closed on a moments notice provided this precaution is deemed advisable. If Colonel Shuler takes the advice of Governor Sloan the entire American force will be used to patrol the boundary and be prepared to disarm all Mexicans that cross the line.

Urges More Caution.

Washington, April 18.—That President Taft fears that it may be necessary for him to order American troops across the American border and that he is apprehensive that it may be necessary ultimately for the United States to intervene in revolution-ridden Mexico, is indicated in a telegram sent by the president to Governor Sloan of Arizona.

The president's telegram was forwarded in reply to a telegram from Governor Sloan, who wired that fifty persons in Douglas, Ariz., were wounded during the fight between the federal troops and the revolutionists. Governor Sloan expressed the fear that there would be more casualties upon the resumption of the engagement today.

Governor Sloan informed the president that conditions in and around Douglas were acute, and he added: "Can anything be done to relieve the situation?"

The president's reply follows:

"Your dispatch received. Has made urgent demand on Mexican government to use means to prevent firing across the border by Mexican federal troops and am awaiting reply. Meantime I have sent direct warning to Mexican insurgent forces near Douglas. I infer from your dispatch that both parties attempt to heed the warnings but in the strained exigency of the contest wild bullets still find their way into Douglas. The situation might justify me in ordering our troops across the border in attempt to stop fighting or to fall upon both combatants from the American side, but if I take this step I must face the possibility of resistance and greater bloodshed and also the danger of having our motives misconstrued and misrepresented as of inflaming the Mexican popular indignation against many thousands of Americans now in Mexico and jeopardizing their lives and property. The pressure for general intervention under such conditions might not be practical to resist. It is impossible to foresee or reckon the consequences of such a course and we must use the greatest self-restraint to avoid it.

"Pending my urgent representations to the Mexican government I can not therefore order the troops in Douglas to cross the border but I would ask you and the local authorities, in case the same danger seems certain, to direct that the people of Douglas place themselves where bullets can not reach them and thus avoid casualties. I am loath to incur danger Americans in Mexico would they are necessarily exposed by taking a radical step to prevent injury to Americans on our side of the border who can avoid it by a temporary inconvenience."

SENATORS PASS GOOD ROAD BILL

Farmers Outvote City Members of Upper Branch.

MORE WET AND DRY QUESTIONS APPEAR

The "Drys" Score Most of Points in Matter.

Several "Wet" Members of House Express Themselves as Heartily Sick of Liquor Legislation—The House Concurs in Amendments to Baseball Bills Made by Senate. Measures Now Up to Governor.

Columbus, O., April 19.—Rural senators lined up against the city members in the upper branch of the general assembly and passed the Hudson bill creating a state highway improvement fund by providing for a levy of one-half of a mill on the grand tax duplicate of the state, raising approximately $3,000,000 annually, and to be apportioned among the 88 counties of the state.

If the measure goes through the house and all counties respond, a total fund of $6,000,000 will be available for construction, maintenance, improvement and repair of roads. Senator Stockwell of Cuyahoga county made an unsuccessful effort to strike out the provision that the proceeds of the state levy are to be divided equally among the counties. He said Cuyahoga would raise one-tenth of the total and receive in return only one eighty-eighth.

The Greeves Sunday baseball bills are now up to the governor for final approval or veto. The house concurred in the amendments made by the senate.

Wet and dry questions have assumed proportions in the general assembly, with the drys scoring most of the points. In the first place the chairman of the temperance committee, Smith Welsh of Ottawa who has been a wet, turned on the question of reporting out the Dean saloon limitation bill and the Lorenz bill to allow brewers and wholesalers in dry counties to sell to residences in their counties in one-gallon quantities, and the meeting of the committee was called off.

Dry For This Session.

"I am a dry so far as reporting any more liquor legislation out," was the way Mr. Welsh expressed it.

Mr. Hillenkamp of Lucas was another wet member of the committee to turn. He declared himself as against reporting out any further liquor legislation. "It's useless to do it," he said.

In the second place the indications pointed to the probability that the amendment to the Green constitutional convention bill providing for separate submission to the people of the question of whether or not the liquor traffic shall be licensed, may be stricken out in the house.

Wayne B. Wheeler of the Anti-Saloon league declared he would fight the amendment. He held it wasn't fair to submit the question of license or no license when no license now exists, and the result could benefit only one side. He declared that the drys might fight to have all liquor questions submitted, including statewide prohibition.

Mr. Wheeler made the further declaration that the wet and dry question would not be eliminated in the election of constitutional delegates and that the drys will fight to elect their delegates in every county in the state.

In the third place Representative Crosser, author of the initiative and referendum bill for cities, which, it is said, the wets will seek to amend in the senate so as to allow cities to vote for saloons in dry counties, announced that the amendment probably would have the effect of killing the bill, since the I. & R. people, in his opinion, wouldn't stand for its incorporation in the measure.

Knock at Trading Stamps.

Columbus, O., April 19.—The cities committee of the house declared for the redemption in cash of all manner of trading stamps when it voted to amend the Gebhardt bill so as to incorporate such a provision. As introduced the bill was even more drastic, and sought to prevent altogether the issue of stamps. If the bill as amended goes through, it will compel sweeping changes in the operation of trading stamp companies, who now redeem in merchandise in which large profits are made.

TICKLES HIS FEET; HE SEEKS DIVORCE

New York Patrolman Tells How His Wife Amuses Herself.

New York, April 19.—Because his wife amused herself by tickling his feet while he tried to sleep, Patrolman Henry P. Radoy is today suing for divorce. He objected to the practice, he was afraid he would be broke if he didn't get his sleep at home and happened to sleep in duty.

To Increase Stock.

Cleveland, O., April 19.—Directors of the Lake Erie & Pittsburg Railroad company today issued a call for a special meeting of stockholders, May 20, to vote upon increasing the capital stock of the company from $5,000,000 to $6,000,000 and issuing $2,000,000 bonds.

KENTON MAN CLAIMS HIS SISTER'S BODY

Girl Ends Life Over Married Man at Sandusky.

Sandusky, O., April 19.—Albert Ballard came to Sandusky yesterday morning from Kenton and claimed the body of his sister, Hazel Ballard, twenty-two, who shot and killed herself at the Hotel Lawrence Monday evening after Elmer Denhard had told her of his determination to live henceforth with his wife.

Tears rolled down the cheeks of the brother as he gazed upon the face of the dead girl who, he said, left her home in Kenton, last Saturday, to come to this city, as she said, "cinch a job for the coming season." Ballard did not know that she had a sweetheart other than a young Kenton man, whose name he refused to divulge. He also believed, he said, that Hazel, here and elsewhere, lived an upright life.

Mrs. Denhard is heartbroken over the affair at the Hotel Lawrence and while she practically had decided to live with her husband again, she said yesterday that it would be useless for Denhard or his relatives further to attempt to effect a reconciliation. She asserted she would not withdraw the petition for a divorce she filed some time ago, despite the fact that as late as Monday afternoon, just before Hazel Ballard shot herself, she was taking steps in that direction.

The body of Miss Ballard will be taken to Kenton for interment today. An autopsy was held, yesterday, under the direction of Coroner Knoble and the results were sufficient to warrant a verdict of suicide.

ASKS PROBE OF POSTAL AFFAIRS

Howard Declares Conditions Are Unbearable.

CLAIMS EFFICIENCY HAS BEEN REDUCED

His Bill Calls for a Thorough Investigation.

Howard Says Hitchcock Maintains a Spy System Which Has Demoralized Railway Mail Service—He Charges Postmaster General Refuses To Spend Appropriations for Rural System.

Washington, April 19.—Representative Howard of Georgia, who succeeded "Uncle Lon" Livingston, and who has been active of late in proposing inquiries into various branches of the government service, presented a resolution calling for a comprehensive investigation of the post-office department.

In the resolution Mr. Howard declares that there have been many charges of inefficiency and violations of congressional enactments made against the postmaster general, and therefore he wants the committee to inquire into the conduct of the department to ascertain if the "un-American practice of intimidation of postal employes exists; if the employes of the railway mail service have been denied the right to organize; if the number of postoffice inspectors has been increased during the last 16 years; if unnecessary surveillance over postal clerks is being employed to the demoralization of the force, and whether the department is crippling the rural free delivery service by declining to use money appropriated by congress for the retention of rural routes."

CHANTILLY FOREST EATEN BY RABBITS

French Government May Take Action in Matter.

Paris, April 19.—In ten years' time the entire forest of Chantilly, one of the most famous preservations in France, will have been eaten by rabbits, according to l'Eclair. The animals are exceedingly numerous there and there being no forage for them to feed upon, they have become fond of the trees themselves, gnawing the bark away as far as they can reach. The government is expected to take a hand against the rabbits.

A WOMAN ENDS HER LIFE NEAR DELAWARE

Farmer's Daughter Despondent Over Ill Health.

Delaware, O., April 19.—Despondent over ill health, Miss Clara Bevan, daughter of David Bevan, a farmer west of the city, slipped from the house at noon yesterday, and several hours later her body was found hanging from a rafter in a buggy shed. She had mounted a table and jumped off, after fastening the noose about her neck.

Miss Bevan was fifty-three years old.

A wreck entailing considerable loss occurred in the north yards of the Hocking Valley about 7 a. m. Wednesday when a coal car and a caboose in a freight train were derailed. The train was getting into a siding in order to be out of the way of No. 31, the morning passenger, when the accident occurred. The tracks were torn up and the equipment was badly damaged.

CLAMORING FOR BLOODY BATTLE

Are the Jingoes of the Entire World.

PEACE ADVOCATE'S PLAIN STATEMENT

Proponents of War Controlled by Passion.

Machinery of War Is Working, Seeking To Plunge the Nations into a Devastating Conflict To Justify Its Existence and To Popularize the Occupation of Army and Navy, Says Man of Peace.

Washington, April 19.—A frantic effort to start a war of some kind, somewhere, before war is abolished, is seen by Representative Richard Bartholdt, of Missouri, member of the interparliamentary peace union, and one of America's leading peace advocates, in the chaotic diplomatic situation that prevails throughout the world. He today prepared the following statement for the United Press:

Copyright, 1911, By the United Press Associations.

[By Richard Bartholdt.]

Fearful lest the worldwide movement for peace shall put an end to militarism and war, the jingoes of the entire world are clamoring for conflicts, for the clank and clatter of the dread machinery which, if put in motion, will mean the slaughter of thousands of the flower of mankind.

All over the world, and particularly in America, the proponents of war are agitating, calling upon patriotism, self-interest, passion and all the emotions that lead men to kill.

They wish to involve the world in the last great armageddon when the powers great and small, shall engage in chaotic conflict for the last time, to go down clutching each other's throats to wild, unreasoning madness of worldwide war. For they see that an enduring worldwide peace bound by a solemn compact of all the nations, is bound to come, and they fear lest the vaunted machinery of war be consigned to the refuse heap.

War, War, War.

Behind this persistent clamor for war, war, war, in our own country, as well as throughout the world, can be seen the growing influence of the machinery of war that we have already built up. Army and navy, ever growing stronger in their soil, political and economic influence, fear the time when their profession of war shall become obsolete, replaced by an international, law-bound peace. And their widespread influence is at work, seeking to plunge the nations into a devastating war to justify their existence and to popularize their occupation.

The real peace will come when we succeed in instituting a world peace law, with the authority of all the nations behind it, and the power of all the nations pledged to police the world.

And the peace movement is progressing slowly, steadily, irresistibly, because it is right.

DUCKING IS FOLLOWED BY SERIOUS TROUBLE

Polish Women, Following Old Custom, Duck the Men.

Maynard, Ohio, April 19.—Stanny Skovran is in a hospital here seriously injured and John Topski is suffering from cuts about the head and face as a result of Skovran's resentment of Mrs. Topski's attempt to "duck" him. All day yesterday Polish women, following a custom of their country, threw water on the men.

It is charged Topski chewed holes in Skovran's neck and fractured his skull in two places by bumping him against a rock.

Work Progressing.

Work in improving the Prospect pike with tar macadam is progressing rapidly. The big steam roller is being used effectively, making a splendid pike, but experts who have seen it declare it is not to be compared with the strip of tar macadam on the Caledonia pike just east of the city.

In the south of France is a concrete arch bridge known as the Pont du Gard, which was erected in the year 56 B. C.

SOME IMPROVEMENTS FOR THE FAIRGROUND

New Buildings To Be Erected This Summer.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Marion County Agricultural society, held in the office of Secretary James A. Knapp, Tuesday afternoon, it was decided to secure plans and specifications for the construction of the new art hall. The old art hall will be torn down and the available timber used in the construction of the new.

It was also decided to build the new horse barn similar to barn No. 2, only longer. It will be located north of barn No. 2, on the east side of the race tracks.

A general overhauling of all the buildings will be made.

The revised premium list was approved.

The vacancy in the board of directors created by the resignation of Samuel E. Bricker, who was elected from Green Camp township, will not be filled by appointment by President Felix Kiger. It has been unanimously decided to leave the place vacant until the annual election in January.

A Joint Meeting.

At a joint meeting of the commissioners of Marion and Morrow counties at Mt. Gilead, Tuesday, the Dean ditch was granted at the final hearing. The ditch will be about one and one-half miles long and will extend from Canaan township in Morrow county into Claridon township, Marion county. A part of it will be of tile and a part of it will be open.

MONEY AWAITING THE TWELVE REGISTRARS

The First Distribution of Fees in City and County.

PAYING REGISTRARS FOR VITAL STATISTICS

Most of the Money Is for the Preparing of Death Records as Little Attention Is Shown the Matter of Recording Births—The County Treasurer Has the Money.

Fees amounting to $265.95 from January 1, 1910, to January 1, 1911, are now in the hands of County Treasurer L. G. Jones for distribution to the twelve registrars of vital statistics in Marion county. This is the first distribution of the kind to be made in the county. Under the law each registrar is entitled to a fee for every birth recorded and for every death certificate made out.

Following is a list of the registrars and the amounts to be received by each upon warrant of County Auditor Charles L. Allen:

G. L. Luvisi, Big Island township, $11; Will J. Clark, LaRue, Bowling Green township and Montgomery township except the village of New Bloomington, $23.25; L. C. Donnenwirth Caledonia, Claridon and Scott townships, $18; C. H. Bower, Grand township, $8.50; Charles M. Tobin, Marion city, Marion and Grand Prairie townships, $133.70; J. N. Carmine, Green Camp village, Green Camp and Pleasant townships, $13.50; T. Finefrock, Prospect village and Prospect township, $12.25; J. J. Loyer, Richland township, $10; Eugene Harmon, Morral village and Salt Rock township, $7; Isaac Dickson, Tully township, $11.25; W. D. Kraner, Waldo village and Waldo township, $11.25, and G. T. Nesbaum, New Bloomington village, $6.25.

The list was certified to the county treasurer by the state registrar of vital statistics.

Physicians are declared to be lax in reporting births to registrars, and as a result only a very small amount of the fees allowed were for recording the trips of the stork to this county.

TANGLE CLEARED AND PETITION CIRCULATED

The Tron Pike May Be Granted by Commissioners.

Another petition for the construction of the Tron pike in Montgomery township has been circulated and the commissioners have fixed the date for the hearing for Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock, May 24. The first petition was turned down because it lacked a majority of resident landowners. A man had signed the petition for a minor and was not her legal guardian. The petition lacked just that one of having a majority. The misunderstanding has now been straightened, however, and the probabilities are that the petition will be granted.

Miss Dora E. Flory and Mr. W. S. Levings.

At the parsonage of the Wesley M. E. church, Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock, Miss Dora E. Flory and Mr. William S. Levings were united in marriage by Rev. H. V. McCleary. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Levings. Both are quite well known in this city. The groom is employed by the Marion Steam Shovel company.

Mr. and Mrs. Levings will make their home on Latourette street.

Hurt in Runaway.

Edward Weaver was bruised and considerably injured in a runaway on north Prospect street, Tuesday evening. His horse was frightened by an interurban car. Weaver was thrown from the rig and suffered such injuries that surgical attention was necessary.

TACOMA VOTERS RECALL MAYOR

Fawcett Ousted in Second Recall Election.

WOMEN PLAY AN IMPORTANT PART

Multi-Millionaire Will Now Take Reins.

The Recall Petition Against Mayor Fawcett Is Filed by the Royal Arch, the Liquor Dealers' Organization, and Is Prompted by Fawcett's Activity in Passage of Anti-Treating Ordinance.

Tacoma, Wash., April 19.—Mayor A. G. Fawcett has been recalled. Complete returns from yesterday's recall election directed against the mayor, the second within three weeks, show that W. W. Seymour, the multi-millionaire, was elected over Fawcett by a plurality of 852. Seymour polled 11,246 and Fawcett 10,394. Fawcett will continue to hold office for ten days, when he will transfer the reins of government to Seymour.

Fawcett attributes his defeat to the fact that the women voters failed to support him at the polls as he expected. The first recall election three weeks' ago resulted in a "draw," neither Fawcett, Seymour or Barth, Socialist, polling a majority. This election eliminated Barth, but Fawcett expected the Socialists and most of the women to support him at the second election yesterday.

The Opposition.

The recall petition against Fawcett was filed by the Royal Arch, the liquor dealers' organization, and was prompted by Fawcett's activity in causing the passage of an anti-treating ordinance. Recall petitions have also been filed against the four municipal commissioners and this election will be held May 2.

Three thousand Socialists, who voted for Barth at the first election, apparently remained away from the polls yesterday.

The women were the largest factor in the election and it was due to their efforts that Seymour carried the fashionable wards and the saloon districts overwhelmingly. The women of the fashionable districts were out early in automobiles, rushing voters of their own sex to vote for Seymour.

As before, Fawcett carried the workingmen's wards by large majorities. Seymour favored the establishment of a restricted district and a liberal administration.

It is believed he will oppose the enforcement of the anti-treating ordinance.

VERY BRIEF ILLNESS RESULTS IN DEATH

Benjamin Underwood Dies at Home at Caledonia.

Caledonia, O., April 19.—[Special.]—Benjamin Underwood, one of the oldest residents of the county, died at his home here, Tuesday afternoon, at 4:30 o'clock, death being due to paralysis and following a short illness. The deceased was born in Marion county, October 19, 1835.

Mr. Underwood was a veteran of the civil war. He was married to Miss Isabelle Miller in 1861 and the couple celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary, February 21. From this union seven children were born. Six children and the widow are living. The children are Mrs. G. W. Douce, Miss Virginia, Messrs. M. H., H. W. and S. A. Underwood, of Caledonia, and Mrs. William Neff, of Martel. Sixteen grandchildren and two great grandchildren also mourn his death.

THE DEMOCRATS ARE AFTER THE POSITION

S. E. DeWolfe's Term on Board Will Expire.

In view of the fact that the five-year term of S. E. DeWolfe, Republican, will expire as a member of the Marion board of review the first Monday in June, several Democrats are after the place, because of the certainty that a Democrat will be named. The appointment will be made by the state auditor, attorney general, secretary of state and the state treasurer, only one of whom is a Republican. The appointment probably will be made on the recommendation of the Democratic committee instead of County Auditor Charles L. Allen, Republican, as has been customary.

PROBATE COURT.

The will of Matthew G. Miller has been filed for probate. The hearing will be held April 24.

The will of Maria Gilman has been admitted to probate. She bequeaths a house and lot on Mt. Vernon avenue to a sister, Mrs. Emma Amberg, as long as she lives. At her death the property is to go to a nephew, Harry Bunker, of New York City.

Unreasonable.

"Come along to bed, Ethel. I'm sure you wouldn't like to keep the Lord up all night, just to listen to you."

Firemen on Liners.

There are 150 firemen on some of the large Atlantic steamers.

PRICE RUSSELL MAY GET LEMERT'S PLACE

Judge Mather, of Sidney, Is Also in Running.

Columbus, O., April 19.—Governor Harmon may make no appointment of insurance commissioner before the first of May. There are many applicants for the job. Price Russell, Democratic floor leader, and Clement L. Brumbaugh are said to be the most likely candidates. Judge Hugh T. Mather, of Sidney, who was a candidate twice for election to the supreme bench, is said to be the man who will have the refusal of the place.

Judge Lemert, the retiring commissioner, is receiving letters of appreciation from all over the country. Among them are resolutions adopted by the Ohio Farmers' Insurance, James V. Barry, secretary of the Metropolitan Insurance company, and former Michigan commissioner and ex-Governor Harris, Eaton, Ohio.

HEIDEMANN GUILTY OF KILLING CHILD

Florist Is Sent to Death Chair for His Crime.

Freehold, N. J., April 19.—The jury in the case of Frank E. Heidemann, on trial for the murder of Marie Smith, 10, at Asbury Park, Nov. 9, returned a verdict of murder in the first degree after a deliberation of one hour and 45 minutes.

Justice Willard P. Voorhees sentenced Heidemann to the electric chair at Trenton in the week beginning May 22. Heidemann was barely able to support himself on his feet. He leaned heavily on both hands on the table and with bowed head wept bitterly when sentence was imposed.

BIG CATHEDRAL IS CONSECRATED

Thousands at Cathedral of St. John, the Divine.

OCCASION IS ONE OF GREAT INTEREST

Most Ambitious Church Edifice in This Country.

The Cathedral, Which Commands a Commanding Position on Morningside Heights, New York City, Is Destined To Become One of the Chief Architectural Features of Gotham—To Be Finished in 1940.

New York, April 19.—In the presence of a brilliant assemblage of dignitaries of numerous denominations, in addition to those of the Episcopal faith, the altar, choir and part of the nave of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine was consecrated today. All the same time the Belmont and King chapels, henceforth known as the chapels of St. Savior and St. Columba, were consecrated with the Right Rev. David Hummell Greer, Protestant Episcopal bishop of New York, and a host of Episcopal prelates and clergy, officiating.

The occasion was one of momentous interest to the christian world, marking the first step in the completion of the most ambitious church edifice in this country. The presence of so notable a gathering of accredited representatives of so many and divergent communions of the christian church, was looked upon by many ecclesiastical authorities as evidence of a new and strong cooperation among the churches not only of New York, but of the nation at large.

The cathedral, which occupies a commanding position on Morningside Heights, is destined to become one of the chief architectural features of the city. The work began twenty years ago, but it will be 1940 before the mammoth structure is completed. The total cost is estimated at $10,000,000, but the outlay will probably exceed that amount.

THE LODGES.

The members of the degree team and staff, with some visitors, about forty-five in all of Canby Temple, No. 152, Pythian Sisters, went to Crestline, Tuesday afternoon, where the local team did the work in the institution of Justice Temple, No. 351, Pythian Sisters, of that place. The Crestline lodge was instituted by Mrs. Susie Moyer, of Shelby, grand protector of the order. The lodge was instituted with a charter of fifty-nine members. Following the work and institution, a banquet was served by the new lodge.

Mrs. Mary Price, of Columbus, grand chief of the order, and Mrs. Emma Jolley, of Galion, the grand manager, were present at the institution. The Marion team was highly complimented by the Grand lodge officers and the members of the new lodge for the manner in which the work was put on. As a result the local team accepted the invitation of the grand chief to put on the work at the session of the Grand lodge to be held at Hamilton in June.

SAVES COIN FOR A LITTLE ROSE

Remarkable Self-Sacrifice of a St. Louis Woman.

WOULD BESTOW NAME ON AN ORPHAN GIRL

Had Longed for Little One of Her Own.

It Was My Wish as a Young Woman, Says Gray-Haired Little Woman of Sixty-One, To Have a Little Girl of My Own, but My Wish Was Not Gratified—Tells How She Saves Money.

St. Louis, April 19.—Miss Rose Robinson, sixty-one years old, for thirteen years has lived on two dollars a week, while she has saved the rest of her meager earnings as a seamstress for the future care and education of some orphan girl whom she desires, after her death, to take her name. She is an English woman and manifests gentle breeding. Her remarkable self-sacrifice was brought to light through a loss which endangered the hoarded sum yesterday.

An old mahogany box containing her certificate of deposit for the amount of the savings, $931.50, and the will by which she bequeathed the whole amount to the Christian Missionary society, for the benefit of the future little Rose, disappeared a few days ago from its accustomed place in her small bare room in the rear of No. 1415 north Thirteenth street.

Hurrying to a bank when she discovered her loss, Miss Robinson was rejoiced to learn that the money was intact. But to regain possession of it she was required to advertise the loss of the deposit certificate, and she will also have to give bond for twice the amount of the deposit. She began advertising immediately and notified the police of her loss.

"It was my wish, as a young woman, to have a little girl of my own," said the gray-haired little woman, "but it was not meant that this wish should be gratified, for no man ever asked me to marry him.

The Beginning.

"I came to St. Louis thirty years ago from England and found employment in clothing factories as a seamstress. I have worked in this way ever since. I have been able to earn as much as $6.50 a week when work is steady, and I found that I could rent a room for one dollar a week and could get what I needed to eat and wear for another dollar a week.

"So I began to save my money for a baby. I decided to leave the money to the Christian Missionary society, and to let it select the baby after my death.

"Whenever I would put a dollar away I would say to myself: 'There is a pair of shoes for little Rose,' or, 'There's a book for her.' That made it easy, and I was surprised to find how much I could save.

"In 1898 I had almost $1,000 saved, but I had it in a building and loan company which collapsed and most of it was lost. With what little was left I started again to save, resolving that if I could keep my health I would leave enough money for little Rose when I died.

"I am unable to understand how the box came to disappear, but I am glad the money is not lost."

MRS. F. J. CYPHERS DIES NEAR MARTEL

Death Comes After an Illness of Two Weeks.

Mrs. F. J. Cyphers, aged seventy-nine years, died of old age and heart trouble at her home near Martel, Tuesday evening, about 6:30 o'clock. She had been seriously ill less than two weeks. Mrs. Cyphers made her home with her two daughters, Alice and Segrilla Cyphers.

Mrs. Cyphers had lived in that vicinity practically her entire life and was very well known in that section of the county. Her husband died about four years ago. Aside from the above children she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Mary Buggard, a son, James, of this county, and a daughter, Emma, in the West.

The funeral was held from the late residence, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. I. K. Johnson, of the Martel Christian church officiating. Burial was made in the Iberia cemetery.

An Ancient Custom.

One penny was placed on the altar at St. Cuthbert's church, York, the other day, in accordance with the ancient custom instituted in memory of Sir Martyn Bowes, a benefactor.

"Robinson Crusoe's" Peculiarity.

Charles Dickens said of "Robinson Crusoe" that it is the only instance of a universally popular book that could make no one either laugh or cry.

The Principal Thing.

Bobby (to Auntie, an energetic suffragette)—I s'pose, auntie, the first thing you'll do when you get to vote will be to put a tax on us bachelors?

Is Highest Point.

Hazleton claims that the highest inhabited point in Pennsylvania is in that city, at the corner of Thomas and Eleventh streets, where the elevation is 1,885.7 feet above sea level.
